TRAPP SUGGESTS ANTI-KLAN STEP FOR LEGISLATURE

Governor Makes First Step
To Voice Sentiment
On Klan Question

FAVORS KLAN ACTION

Feuquay Amendment Slated to
Be Next Step for
Klan Action

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 24.—Governor M. E. Trapp entered the Ku Klux Klan controversy in the state legislature today by coming out definitely for an act governing secret organizations in Oklahoma, particularly with respect to making available for public inspection the membership lists of all such orders.

The executive announced after a conference with members of the senate that he would recommend to the legislature Monday a bill along these lines, declaring that while he did not wish a Klan or anti-Klan statute specifically, he wanted one that would apply to all secret organizations.

"The people have the right to such protection," he said, "and they demand an adequate act covering these phases. I am sure the legislature will give it to them."

The state senate, having killed the section of its anti-Klan bill which would have compelled secret organizations to register their complete roster with county authorities, will reconvene Monday afternoon with the promise of further turbulent sessions before the measure finally is acted upon.

Feuquay Amendment Slated

For first consideration will be an amendment introduced by Senator Courtland M. Feuquay of Chandler, which would require officers to reveal the names of members upon court order. The proposal would amend the section which the senate passed yesterday compelling officers of secret organizations to file their names with state authorities.

Senator Feuquay's amendment would provide that any judgment handed down against the officers whose names are on file shall be binding on all or part of the membership over which they have jurisdiction, and stipulates that the judge of the court in which the judgment may be rendered shall order officers to produce the membership of secret societies should be taken in the action.

Governor Trapp indicated that he would favor the amendment by declaring that he believed the membership of secret societies should be made available to every court in the state. Thus, he pointed out, a defendant in any act also could consult the record to determine if any man qualifying for jury service is a member of a secret organization.

The governor was represented as believing that satisfactory progress has been made toward solution of the difficulty but that further details of the proposed legislation should be given careful study.

Man who Creates
Scene in Chicago
Hotel is abnormal.

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—Roy Hendrickson, arrested today after police routed him from a room in a downtown hotel with tear gas bombs, was declared by Dr. Francis J. Gerty of the Psychopathic Hospital to be mentally subnormal.

Hospital authorities say he will talk freely and intelligently on any subject other than his fight with the police. When that is mentioned he immediately becomes violent. His wife said he left home yesterday apparently in a normal frame of mind. More than a score of officers were needed to rout him from the hotel room.

WALTON ARRAIGNMENT DATE SET WITH OTHER DEFENDANTS

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 24.—Arraignment of Jack Walton, deposed governor, indicted yesterday, was set today for November 28 before Judge George W. Clark in state district court. Dr. S. E. Davenport, state health commissioner, and T. P. Edwards, the former governor's personal chauffeur, who were indicted with him, will enter pleas at the same time. All have made bond for appearance.

SHAWANO, Wis., Nov. 24.—A player piano saved Otto Siebert, his wife and family, from possible death in a fire which destroyed their home yesterday. In some way the flames caused the electric switch of the piano to be turned on, the ensuing music awaking the sleepers who escaped.

Coolidge prepares Message to Solons On National tread

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—President Coolidge today began the final polishing of his forthcoming message to congress which many observers believe will have an important bearing on his future political fortune. He completed the main part of his work on the document yesterday and all that remains to be done before it is sent to the printer is the clarifying of the language of several sections.

The message is expected to be brief. White House officials having made it known that the president intends to present his recommendations without long arguments or discussions but on the basis of what he feels to be their intrinsic soundness. Little is known of the details of the message but it is generally thought that its principal sections will deal with taxation, agricultural relief and transportation.

BAND UNITS GETS TRANSFER TO ADA

Field Artillery Band Removed
From Holdenville to Local Quarters.

Headquarters for the 160 F. A. band of the Oklahoma National Guard will be transferred from Holdenville to Ada, according to orders from Colonel Key at general headquarters in Oklahoma City.

The regiment band organization, which has been stationed at Holdenville since its organization has been ordered quartered at Ada and equipment transferred to this place, according to the orders received here by warrant Officer Fred J. Schieber.

The band, with a strength of 48 pieces, is made up of enlisted musicians from this area but approximately half of the strength of the organization is composed of the enlisted personnel of Ada.

Warrant Officer Fred J. Schieber assisted by Major Lowery H. Harrell and Colonel Byron Sledge has sought the transfer of the band headquarters to Ada during the past several months owing to the fact that half of the personnel of the company lived in Ada.

The order issued on November 19 to Schieber instructed that the transfer be made before November 30.

The band has answered to several military functions during the past year and is rated as one of the best in the Oklahoma National

Legion To Elect Officers For Year

Whether the rivalry in the election of new officers to pilot the affairs of the Norman Howard post, American Legion next Tuesday night will be as quiet as the tiresome watch on the Rim, or as bitter as the Battle of Chateau Thier, veterans may be assured that a scrap fight is in store for the incumbents in the gigantic program for the fiscal year.

Already the rumbling of candidacy for the high offices of the veterans organization has been heard within their ranks and a quiet but abiding discussion of the best-suited leaders of the vets has crept out in the mentioning of former fighters for the coventioned offices in Legiondom.

Several possible candidates have been launched by friends and buddies who are interested vitally in the future of the veterans organization. With the increased interest in the possible candidates for the year has evolved a new interest in legion affairs and the future of the organization.

With the official notice of the Tuesday night meeting through

General Remembers Buddy

(By the Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—More than five years ago Everett C. Parry, a doughboy in the St. Michael advance, was driving a team of Missouri mules down a French roadway when he espied a big green overcoat heavy with gold insignia, hanging over a well to dry.

"Captured from a German general," he said. "Here is where

I get a souvenir." He pulled out his knife and started to rip off the showy insignia. A few minutes later he was under arrest and facing General Wendell C. Neville, U. S. marine corps, who wanted to know why he was trying to wreck his overcoat. The boy explained and was reprimanded.

A few days ago it was learned today that General Neville, in charge of the marines here, heard that Parry, broken by war, was in a hospital in Rutland, Massachusetts. The general whipped out his knife, grasped his overcoat and cut off the shining insignia. Then he put it in a little box and sent it by registered mail to Everett C. Parry, U. S. Public Health Hospital, in far-off Rutland.

It was also announced that leaves of absence from the penitentiary will be discontinued and that when it is necessary for a convict to be released for a brief interval, short time paroles will be issued.

Records of pardons filed with the secretary of state will also show who was instrumental in obtaining the clemency, the grounds upon which it was issued, and those who recommended it, together with any protest, if made, it was said.

TIGERS DEFEAT RANGER ELEVEN

Local College Squad Scores
Three Touchdowns over
Northwestern Squad

Three touchdowns represented the triumph of the Ada Tigers over the Northwestern Rangers at Alva Friday when the local eleven showed marked superiority over their opponents. None of the tries for point counted, one of them being completed but being lost because of an offside player.

The fighting Tigers carried the ball by fine plunges at will through the Ranger forwards and slipped around end for extra yardage. Ada was forced to punt only once, although three times the kick was used to advantage in advancing the ball.

Playing against a team that was a good match in weight and speed the Tigers so well protected their own goal line that the Rangers threatened only once and then when a long and a short pass had placed the ball just within the thirty-yard line. Another pass was intercepted and Ada kicked out of danger.

Coch Milam stated that at times the entire team showed bursts of speed and team play that swept the Alva eleven off their feet. The line did not do the work expected of them but outclassed their opponents.

Cunning at halfback played his greatest game this season, showing the development of his ability under a hard schedule. His work on plumping and broken field running showed better than ever before this season.

Kelly as usual garnered a great gob of glory, slipping through the line and circling the ends for extra gains time after time.

Capps showed stellar ability in his line play. Parker Floyd, who at the opening of the schedule was used in the line, took up the duties of the injured backs and showed excellent work at fullback. Potts was in the game for a few minutes.

The revamped lineup, made necessary by the loss of a number of star performers, did its work well and is in great shape for the battle next Thursday with the Southeastern Savages.

WRIT OF MANDAMUS IS DENIED IN JONES ACTION

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 24.—Judge William Zwick in state district court here today denied a petition for an alternative writ of mandamus against R. A. Sneed, secretary of state, to compel him to honor a purported pardon issued by former governor J. C. Walton.

Trapp orders all Absences at Penal Institutions filed

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 24.—Under a new ruling announced to-day at the office of Governor M. E. Trapp all absences of any nature of persons confined in penal institutions in the state will be filed with the secretary of state. This includes every institution where state prisoners are kept, even to county jails and road gangs, it was explained.

It was also announced that leaves of absence from the penitentiary will be discontinued and that when it is necessary for a convict to be released for a brief interval, short time paroles will be issued.

ATOKA GAME END OF ADA HI TRAIL

Local Grid Squad Suffers One Defeat During Most Successful Year.

For the closing match of a most successful season the football team of Ada high will return to Atoka on Tuesday for their final game. Atoka is rated high among teams of that section but with little basis for comparison between the two teams local fans are confident of winning by a decisive score.

Opening the year with two regulars and three substitutes to build a team upon, Coach C. R. Cox has moulded one of the most powerful offensive teams ever produced at the high school here. Thus far the record stands at six games won and one lost, with prospects excellent for continuing their record for the entire schedule.

With only light material available the team was forced to develop a speedy defensive and a fighting defensive eleven. Competition for places on the team was fierce and little superiority has been shown between members of the team.

Opening the season the local players went to McAlester and surprised that place by hanging up a 17-8 win. Sulphur was the next victim, the red and white running up a total of over forty points against the heavier team.

Oklumgea proved to be the stumbling block to an unblemished record, smashing across three touchdowns in a muddy field. This game is being contested on the grounds of the use of an ineligible player by the Okmulgee team.

Paul Valley was trounced 25-0 in rain and mud of the big double-header game here. The powerful Henryetta combination using a heavy line and a fast backfield, threw a scare into fans when the first half of the game ended with the visitors nine points in the lead. In the second half, however, the Ada rolled up a 98-0 score against their supporters and ran up a score of 19 points while holding Henryetta scoreless.

Purcell fell before the speed and punch of Ada and finished the game scoreless while three touchdowns represented the score garnered by the locals. Purcell, however, threatened continually with a great passing offense.

Holdenville played gamely while Ada rolled up a 98-0 score against them last Friday, using the first team for only one quarter of the contest.

Graduation this year will remove a large number of this year's team. Hargis, Baker, Deaver, Page, and Floyd will not be available for the backfield. Sneed and Proctor at end will not be attending high. Wilbrough, tackle and captain will finish. Kerr will not hold down his guard position and Whitwell, center and tackle will graduate, as will Jackson, general utility. Rayburn may return to hold down center.

These losses will leave of the first squad Fugua at halfback; Burkhardt at end; Butler at tackle; Stalups at guard; and Norman at end.

The bright spot in the prospects for next year's eleven is the showing made by the players of the second team which engaged in four games and also took the major share of time in the last Holdenville game.

The inexperienced seconds lost to Coalgate and Holdenville but tied Allen and Roff, and offered an opportunity for development for these hoping to win places on the varsity next year. Those who will be left after graduation include: Anderson, captain and halfback; Clarke, quarterback; McKey, fullback; Canterbury halfback; Johnson, end; C. Burkhardt; Coleman.

Those lost from this team by graduation include: Smith, end and halfback; Johnston, tackle; Whitaker, tackle and guard; Wilmot, center; Harwell, guard.

Holdenville Suffers Heavy Defeat from Ada High First String and Yearling Squad

Using the second team and substitutes for three quarters of the game and the regular varsity for only one fifteen minute period Ada high swept to a 98 to 0 victory over the visiting Holdenville high school football team Friday in the last home game of the local squad.

There were few superior lights in the game, both the first and second team worked well and advancing the score rapidly. Their opponents represented a group of green material, this being the first season of football for every member of the team with one exception.

In spite of the lack of experience of the visiting players the Holdenville high representatives fought gamely throughout the contest and twice threatened to score against the second team the first.

Fifteen touchdowns represented the heavy scoring of the local players, eight of them being secured by the first squad in its one quarter of play. The second team, strengthened most of the time by first team substitutes, accounted for the remaining seven.

The game opened with the second team facing the Holdenville players. For the entire first quarter the two teams battled on even terms, the visitors threatening twice as the result of long end runs by their back. During this period the second made a drive that counted the first score of the game, when Sneed, running at quarterback, Canterbury, crossed for the last two long end runs.

Only one game remains on the schedule for this season and will be played at Atoka next Tuesday. Atoka has made a then record of 10-0 and is rated one of the strongest teams of that section. There is no way in which to compare dope between the two teams but after watching the local team in action against Henryetta, Purcell and Paul Valley local supporters are confident of a decisive victory.

This game represents an annual rivalry which was begun on the local gridiron a year ago when Ad triumphed over Atoka in Thanksgiving day after a hard fought battle.

Floyd Suggests Steps In Advancement Program for Pontotoc County Schools

Striving for the betterment of rural school conditions in Pontotoc county A. Floyd, County Superintendent, supplies a list of suggestions in an official letter sent from his office to teachers in charge of the various schools in the county.

A complete program for the advancement of school conditions is sounded in Floyd's list of suggestions, which include the interest and co-operation of the school superintendent in this important endeavor.

Floyd has visited practically all the schools in the county and his suggestions are founded on the needs of schools in his jurisdiction. Floyd's suggestions come with the compliment to those in charge of their effort in the advancement of education in county.

Floyd's most recent visit was to Francis, where he found conditions in excellent shape and the school at that place striving for a higher mark in service to the educational needs of the vicinity.

While Floyd directs his suggestions to the teachers of the county, he also sounds an appeal for public interest and co-operation, maintaining that the foundation of the school exists in the home.

Following is the official letter sent to teachers in the county:

Dear Teachers:

We want to make this a banner year for the schools of Pontotoc county. To do this, we need the fullest co-operation of patrons, boards, and teachers in all concerted moves of the county for the betterment of schools.

Yours sincerely,
A. FLOYD,
County Superintendent.

P. S. The Normal will give to each teacher who makes his or her school a Model School two credits.

Also, two credits to any teacher who organizes a school of the illiterate.

After visiting and observing practically every school in the county during the summer, I wish to offer the following suggestions that would aid some in putting the work over:

First: Each school should organize a Parents-Teachers Association. This would enable you to get the co-operation of the citizens of the community behind you in all school moves.

Second: Study the "Model School Score Card" sent out last summer and grade your school. If you do not have a card call at the office and I will furnish you with one. Remember some of our schools are going to be Model Schools. Do you want your school to be in that class?

Third: Improve your library for your grade pupils—Give them something to read. If you wish to purchase some books, we have a fine assortment in the office to assist you in your selections. If the district is not able to purchase books, take advantage of the Traveling Library. Write to the Oklahoma Library Commission, Oklahoma City and get the books you need. Here is where you Parent-Teachers Association can help you. Teachers, if you will visit the homes of your pupils and see the small amount of reading matter they have in them, I am sure you would not neglect this the most important thing of all—GOOD READING FOR ALL.

Fourth: Increase you daily attendance by making your school interesting. In the fifteen dollar amendment, the money will be distributed on the basis of attendance. So if your school shares well you

Fans Awaits Savage And Tiger Clash

With the approach of Turkey Day the thoughts of all who have followed the career of the East Central Tigers throughout their most successful season in several years are turned to the titanic struggle which marks the annual final battle of the pigskin season for the Tigers and the Southeastern Savages.

Beginning early in the annals of the local college when it was struggling for existence arose a rivalry that was both intense and bitter between East Central and Southeastern. For some years it continued, adding each year additional fuel to the rivalry of the two schools and culminating in the breaking off of athletic relations.

Later these were resumed and the struggle for supremacy renewed. Teams representing the two institutions were pointed toward the yearly battle as the climax of each season.

Last year marked the establishment of Thanksgiving Day as the setting for the annual contest. On Turkey Day of last season the newly organized Tiger team journeyed to Durant and there fought the powerful Savage team to a defeat in the view of a crowd of local fans who accompanied the team.

With the most powerful aggregation in years to offer battle the Tigers and their supporters have watched closely the progress of the team.

The orchestra made its first public appearance Thursday afternoon at the P. T. A. meeting. Members of the club expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the progress the orchestra is making.

Four members of the Hays school Orchestra of last year were able to make advanced band at the A. H. S. this year. They are: Jack Conn, Harrel Webster, Harrison Meaders and Bartley Meaders.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—The Standard Oil, like any other New York tenant, must pay rent on its home on Broadway in advance. The appellate court has upheld the contention of the company's landlord, Elmer E. Smathers, that the quarterly rent of $62,000 must be paid in advance.

The company had refused to make advance payments because the words "in advance" had been omitted from the lease.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—"Harness full of bugs for a bachelor horse" was the true literal translation for a single-horse buggy harness which a Spanish translator used in an American exporter's advertisement according to the Department of Commerce. Other translations have been a ridiculous, the department says. Vacuum cleaners have been made "cleaners of emptiness"; monkey-wrenches, "wrenches of monkeys"; and iron washers, "machines to clean iron."

SOCIAL MEETING OF WOODMEN CIRCLE

The Woodmen Circle reports a delightful time at a social meeting held on the evening of November 23.

A large number of members turned out to greet Mrs. M. G. Meadows, state manager of the order for many years past. She spoke in an interesting manner about the many good points of the society and expressed the deep interest she feels in the welfare of the girls at Ada to which she has been a frequent visitor during her term of service and was enthusiastic about the coming membership campaign.

An entertaining feature of the occasion was a hat making contest. Each member was supplied with crepe paper in the colors of the Circle, lavender, green and white, and then all joined in a grand march wearing the hats. A prize was given for the best hat.

Another enjoyable feature was a reading by Miss Mattie Faust.

The concluding event of the evening was the serving of refreshments.

MRS. M. C. TAYLOR HONORS BRIDE TO BE

Miss Annie Carroll Simpson whose marriage announcement was made by Mrs. P. A. Norris at a beautifully appointed bridge luncheon last Tuesday has been the recipient of many social courtesies during the week, one of which was an afternoon at bridge with Mrs. M. C. Taylor, 129 W. 16th, Wednesday afternoon from two-thirty until five.

Yellow chrysanthemums and roses were used for decorations.

Those sharing the pleasure with Miss Simpson were Mrs. Erb Lamb of Okmulgee, and Miss Mary Louise Coates of Oklahoma City, Mrs. Yandell Lain of Holdenville, Miss Dorothy Duncan, Mrs. A. T. Boggs, Mrs. Orel Busby, Mrs. M. L. Lewis, Mrs. Jim Chapman, Mrs. N. B. Haney, Mrs. Harmon Ebey, Mrs. Ben McKinley, Mrs. Calhoun Sparks, Mrs. T. B. Blake, Mrs. Blain Gilbreath and Mrs. R. W. Simpson.

A cut glass nappy was awarded Miss Coates for high score while the honor guest was presented with an exquisite boudoir cay by Mrs. Taylor.

PRESTYTERIANS SPONSOR HOME OF HONEST BILL NEWTON

Members of the Presbyterian congregation are sponsoring the benevolent move of Honest Bill Newton in giving the entire proceeds of the home-coming show of his circus at Ada on December 1 to the benefit of the financial fund of the Presbyterian church building plans.

Church organizations as well as the general public are said to be looking forward to this opportunity of seeing Honest Bill's entertainment and at the same time contributing in an indirect way to the financial obligations of the church.

Members of the Presbyterian congregation have interested themselves in boosting this occasion.

MISS DUNCAN ENTERTAINS IN HONOR OF DECEMBER BRIDE

“Hearts” was the game of the hour for those who were greeted by Miss Dorothy Duncan in her home on South Broadway Saturday afternoon when she entertained honoring Miss Annie Carroll Simpson who is shortly to wed Mr. Charles Weston Roodhouse of Okmulgee. Those receiving with Miss Duncan were Miss Simpson, Mrs. R. W. Simpson, Mrs. Annie Byrd, Miss Ethel James Byrd, Miss Marjory Norris and Mrs. James Chapman.

A color note of pink and orchid prevailed in the house decorations of roses and chrysanthemums. Guests included Mesdames Taylor, Blake, Nethery, Murphy, Jackson, Chaney, H. Ebey, Boggs, Bayless, B. McKinley, J. McKinley, King, Sparks, Norris, Wilson, Sandbach, Hunter, Lewis, Busby, Rodarmel, Manville, Hill, Wesley Chaney, Cummings, Shelton, Haney, Becker, Hager, Gowing, P. S. Case, Misses Frances Skinner, Eunice Bills, and Miss Jamie Epperson.

Mrs. C. V. Gowing made high score, Miss Simpson was presented with a dainty fudge apron.

BUFFET BRIDGE IN HONOR OF MISS SIMPSON

Autumn's glow of orchid and gold was shed throughout the home of Mrs. M. C. Wilson at 201 South Townsend Thursday afternoon when Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Chas. H. Rives entertained with a buffet-bridge luncheon honoring Miss Annie Carroll Simpson, whose marriage December 4th to Mr. Charles Weston Roodhouse of Okmulgee promises to be the outstanding social event of the season.

Yellow roses and mammoth yellow chrysanthemums tied with orchid tulle were used in profusion through the rooms and formed the centerpiece for the dining table where sheer madiera linen and silver candlesticks holding tapers of orchid made a fitting shrine for the bride-to-be who was seated under a rainbow canopy with its pot of gold, shedding radiant smiles upon the friends who joined in wishes for a life of sunshine and happiness.

Mrs. Rives and Mrs. Wilson were other reason for the significance of the picture.

Oliver Cromwell was leader of the Parliamentary Party which chafed at their lack of voice in government. Charles I was king. He disdained the Parliamentarians and vested power in the Cavalier Party, the lords, or royalists, were known. Cromwell led a revolution and, from 1642 through 1649, civil war was waged in England, ending with the execution of Charles I. Four years later Cromwell was made Lord Protector of England. And he established the foundations for the present popular government.

“The Fighting Blade” depicts one of the most dramatic episodes of the historic conflict, reciting the exploits and the romance of the valorous Kerstenbrook (played by Richard Barthelmess), a Flemish soldier of fortune who gained fame as the most deadly duelist in all Europe and who by circumstances was drawn to the people's side in their fight for the right to govern themselves, and who paved the way for Cromwell's success. The picture unfolds a story which, even without its historic background would be a tremendously fascinating entertainment. In addition to the star, the cast includes Dorothy Mackail, Frederick Burton, Morgan Wallace, Lee Baker, Bradley Barker, Stuart Page, Allyn King and others—a sterling cast in a unusually worthy and worthwhile picture.

Tobacco Cooperative Market
Nearly Half of Country's Crop

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25—Tobacco cooperatives did a big business with last year's crop, eight producer-owned-and controlled as associations marketing nearly 600,000,000 pounds of tobacco or nearly one-half of the total crop produced, the Department of Agriculture reports. The eight associations have 259,840 members. The larger organizations are the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association of Lexington, Ky., with 90,607 members, which marketed 197,000,000 pounds; the Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association of Raleigh, N. C., comprising 90,226 members, which marketed 163,000,000 pounds and the Dark Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association at Hopkinsville, Ky., having 64,000 members, which marketed 175,000,000 pounds. Other associations at at Madison, Wis.; Hartford, Conn.; Baltimore, Md.; Baldwinsville, La., and Convent, La.

A JOHN S. ROBERTSON PRODUCTION

It is not amiss to call to mind the never-to-be-forgotten performances of Richard Barthelmess in "Tol'able David," in "Soony," in "The Bright Shawl." Never has a star reached the hearts of his audiences as sincerely or as consistently as this versatile star. And now a romance role; a drama of the days of chivalry; a special among special productions—with the star in a role more vigorous, more dashing, more lovable. The picture of all of his pictures you will find most glorious. And, like the others.

EDUCATORS PLANNING PROGRAM TO CUT DOWN COUNTY ILLITERACY

The city public schools under the direction of City Superintendent Hickman, and the county schools under the direction of County Superintendent Floyd, and the Teachers College are joining efforts with the Federated Women's Clubs, the American Legion, and the churches in an attempt to reduce illiteracy in East Central Oklahoma in general and in Ada in particular.

It is the plan of the educational institutions of the state schools for adult illiterates in Ada in the near future. The school will be opened at some convenient point in the city, and will be taught by teachers who have ample experience in teaching adults who have not had the benefit of an education. There will be absolutely no charge for instruction, and the cost of books and material will be reduced to a minimum.

A meeting will be held Tuesday afternoon at which there will be representatives of the Federated Women's Club, the churches, the American Legion, the Lions' Club, the Chamber of Commerce, and the various schools of the city. Definite announcement as to the school will be made after the meeting.

There are in Oklahoma approximately 56,000 adult illiterates, 40,000 of them being native whites, the remainder negroes and Indians. Pontotoc county is accredited by the 1920 census with a rate of 900 illiterates. The exact number of illiterates in the city of Ada is unknown, and one of the first steps in the campaign against illiteracy will be an effort to determine this number and to reduce it to a minimum.

The East Central Teachers College has been taking a very active interest in the campaign against illiteracy. During the summer school two conferences were held, here which were attended by all of the County Superintendents, and eminent educators. Plans were prepared under the direction of State Superintendent Nash for reducing or entirely eliminating illiteracy.

The Extension Department and the Director of Rural Education have made the campaign against illiteracy one of the important factors in their work, and schools for adults who are unable to read and write have been organized in several districts in each of the counties in the territory under the direction of East Central. In Pontotoc county the teachers are making a preliminary survey, and several schools are to be established within the next few days. Francis has completed the preliminary work and will have a school of this type in operation next week. Ada should take the lead in this matter, with the exceptionally good public school system of this city, and with the live Civic and Women's Clubs, it should be possible to provide every adult who desires to do so an opportunity to read and write and manipulate the elements of Arithmetic, together with furnishing instruction in History and Government.

SCHOOL NOTES

IRVING SCHOOL

The girls' basketball team defeated the Willard team Tuesday, score 7 to 2.

The boys' football team had a very enjoyable trip to Roff Wednesday afternoon. The Roff school has a good clean team and the boys enjoyed playing with them.

We have had a number of visitors this week. Thursday the following members of the Lion's Club visited us: Measrs S. M. Shaw, F. J. McFarland, Rev. Blackburn, M. E. Wilson, C. W. Fisher, Harry Scheinburg, M. C. Taylor, R. L. Bradley, C. V. Gowing and C. E. Cunningham.

We welcome visitors at any time. We have gone "over the top" in securing our pledge for the high school football game, November 22.

On November 27 the Willard school is coming over for a spelling match of course we expect to win.

On next Wednesday afternoon, November 28th, the boys' football team will play Allen here. Come but if you want to see a good game.

Our girls' second basketball team made another visit to Willard yesterday and enjoyed one of the finest games of the season with Willard's second team. The final score was 8 to 2 in our favor.

To those teams we have not met we would like very much to complete our circle and see who's who and why.

We now have our boys' basketball team in fine shape and will meet all those who choose us.

GLENWOOD SCHOOL

The pupils of Glenwood enjoyed the sing-song at assembly Friday morning. Mr. O'Neal, the evangelist, was with us and made a very instructive and interesting address.

The 5th, 6th, 7th, and 8th grades are preparing to put on a minstrel in the near future, the downstair will have concessions in their respective rooms. There will be a popularity contest and other features to raise money for the school the school is planning to attend the big game between Holdenville and "Hi" Friday afternoon. We want to see our high school who most laurels.

Insulin Treatment Should Be Followed With Careful Dieting For Long Period

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—In an article in the current issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. Frederick M. Allen, director of the Physiatric Institute, Morristown, N. J., gives an authoritative review of the treatment of diabetes with insulin, based on its use at the Institute for a period of more than a year, or since the discovery of insulin by Dr. Frederick G. Banting and his associates.

The impression has gained much headway with the public during the past year, according to Dr. Allen, that insulin is a cure for diabetes and that regulation of diet is not necessary. This is far from the truth.

The use of insulin without a regulated diet is a dangerous error. Continuing Dr. Allen writes: "The purpose of insulin treatment is to improve the nutrition of patients with severe diabetes and to add a safeguard against downward progress. Mild cases, which can be kept symptom-free on adequate diets, ordinarily do not require insulin. Insulin does not offer a cure of diabetes or a license for carelessness."

The insulin treatment should be carried out in conjunction with accurate diets under laboratory control to assure that patients remain sugar-free. It involves the inconvenience of frequent subcutaneous injections and other disadvantages, does not simplify diabetic treatment or justify careless methods; and is not the final step in diabetic research. Nevertheless this discovery of Dr. Banting and his associates is the first replacement of negative by positive therapy in diabetes. It affords the possibility of relegating emaciation, progressiveness acidosis and most of the disabilities and fatalities of diabetes to the past. It therefore stands as one of the greatest achievements of medicine.

Dr. Banting and his associates have experienced no difficulty in learning the hypodermic technique, and, somewhat to our surprise, not a single one, even among the ignorant, has produced an abcess. The frequency of the injections, when at first thought seems formidable, has likewise proved compatible with the living and working habits of all patients, and is a trivial price to pay for the improvement of health.

"Insulin must nearly always be injected by the patient or some member of the household, since the physician can seldom spare the time, and few persons can afford the continuous service of a nurse. ## TRAPP SUGGESTS ANTI-KLAN STEP FOR LEGISLATURE

To Voice Sentiment
On Klan Question

FAVORS KLAN ACTION

Feuquay Amendment Slated to
Be Next Step for
Klan Action

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 24.—Governor M. E. Trapp entered the Ku Klux Klan controversy in the state legislature today by coming out definitely for an act governing secret organizations in Oklahoma, particularly with respect to making available for public inspection the membership lists of all such orders.

The executive announced after a conference with members of the senate that he would recommend to the legislature Monday a bill along these lines, declaring that while he did not wish a Klan or anti-Klan statute specifically, he wanted one that would apply to all secret organizations.

"The people have the right to such protection," he said, "and they demand an adequate act covering these phases. I am sure the legislature will give it to them." The state senate, having killed the section of its anti-Klan bill which would have compelled secret organizations to register their complete roster with county authorities, will reconvene Monday afternoon with the promise of further turbulent sessions before the measure finally is acted upon.

Feuquay Amendment Slated

Up for first consideration will be an amendment introduced by Senator Courtland M. Feuquay of Chandler, which would require officers to reveal the names of members upon court order. The proposal would amend the section which the senate passed yesterday compelling officers of secret organizations to file their names with state authorities.

Senator Feuquay's amendment would provide that any judgment handed down against the officers whose names are on file shall be binding on all or part of the membership over which they have jurisdiction and stipulates that the judge of the court in which the judgment may be rendered shall order officers to produce the membership of secret societies should be taken in the action.

Governor Trapp indicated that he would favor the amendment by declaring that he believed the membership of secret societies should be made available to every court in the state. Thus, he pointed out, a defendant in any act also could consult the record to determine if any man qualifying for jury service is a member of a secret organization.

The governor was represented as believing that satisfactory progress has been made toward solution of the difficulty but that further details of the proposed legislation should be given careful study.

BAITLESVILLE POLICE CHIEF
CHARGED WITH BRUTALITY

(By the Associated Press)

BAITLESVILLE, Nov. 24.—Charging torture and brutality in alleged third degree methods L. U. Gaston, Bartlesville chief of police, Policeman E. W. Hazlett, and D. W. Williams, and the National Security company, bondsmen for Chief Gaston, are named defendants in a damage suit for $50,000 filed in the district court of Washington county today by Roy Burton of this city.

Coolidge prepares
Message to Solons
On National tread

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—President Coolidge today began the final polishing of his forthcoming message to congress which many observers believe will have an important bearing on his future political fortune. He completed the main part of his work on the document yesterday and all that remains to be done before it is sent to the printer is the clarifying of the language of several sections.

The message is expected to be brief. White House officials having made it known that the president intends to present his recommendations without long arguments or discussions but on the basis of what he feels to be their intrinsic soundness. Little is known of the details of the message but it is generally thought that its principal sections will deal with taxation, agricultural relief and transportation.

Man who Creates
Scene in Chicago
Hotel is abnormal.

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—Roy Hendrickson, arrested today after police routed him from a room in a downtown hotel with tear gas bombs, was declared by Dr. Francis J. Gerty of the Psychopathic Hospital to be mentally subnormal.

Hospital authorities say he will talk freely and intelligently on any subject other than his fight with the police. When that is mentioned he immediately becomes violent. His wife said he left home yesterday apparently in a normal frame of mind. More than a score of officers were needed to rout him from the hotel room.

WALTON ARRAIGNMENT DATE
SET WITH OTHER DEFENDANTS

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 24.—Arraignment of Jack Walton, deposed governor, indicted yesterday, was set today for November 28 before Judge George W. Clark in state district court. Dr. S. E. Davenport, state health commissioner, and T. P. Edwards, the former governor's personal chauffeur, who were indicted with him, will enter pleas at the same time. All have made bond for appearance.

SHAWANO, Wis., Nov. 24.—A player piano saved Otto Siebert, his wife and family, from possible death in a fire which destroyed their home yesterday. In some way the flames caused the electric switch of the piano to be turned on, the ensuing music awaking the sleepers who escaped.

Whether the rivalry in the election of new officers to pilot the affairs of the Norman Howard post, American Legion next Tuesday night will be as quiet as the tiresome walk on the Rine or as bitter as the Battle of Chateau Thierry, veterans may be assured that a scrap fight is in store for the incumbents in the gigantic program for the fiscal year.

Already the rumbling of candidacy for the high offices of the veterans organization has been heard within their ranks and a quiet but adroit discussion of the best-suited leaders of the vets has crept out in the mentioning of former fighters for the convention offices in Legionland.

Several possible candidates have been launched by friends and buddies who are interested vitally in the future of the veterans organization. With the increased interest in the possible candidates for the year has evolved a new interest in Legion affairs and the future of the organization.

General Remembers Buddy

(By the Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—More than five years ago Everett C. Parry, a doughboy in the St. Mihiel advance, was driving a team of Missouri mules down a French roadway when he espied a big green overcoat heavy with gold insignia, hanging over a well to dry.

"Captured from a German general," he said. "Here is where

I get a souvenir." He pulled out his knife and started to rip off the shiny insignia. A few minutes later he was under arrest and facing General Wendell C. Neville, U. S. marine corps, who wanted to know why he was trying to wreck his overcoat. The boy explained and was reprimanded.

A few days ago it was learned today that General Neville, in charge of the marines here, heard that Parry, broken by war, was in hospital in Rutland, Massachusetts.

The general whipped out his knife, grasped his overcoat and cut off the shining insignia. Then he put it in a little box and sent it by registered mail to Everett C. Parry, U. S. Public Health Hospital, in far-off Rutland.

Trapp orders all
Absences at Penal Institutions filed

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 24.—Under a new ruling announced today at the office of Governor M. E. Trapp all absences of any nature of persons confined in penal institutions in the state will be filed with the secretary of state. This includes every institution where state prisoners are kept, even to county jails and road gangs, it was explained.

It was also announced that leaves of absence from the penitentiary will be discontinued and that when it is necessary for a convict to be released for a brief interval, short time paroles will be issued.

Records of pardons filed with the secretary of state will also show who was instrumental in obtaining the clemency, the grounds upon which it was issued, and those who recommended it, together with any protest, if made, it was said.

Maintains Senate Action is Proof of Klan Control of body.

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 24.—A charge that both the action of the grand jury in indicting him and the impeachment, and removal from office by the state legislature are part of "a secret and diabolical conspiracy now in progress" to paralyze his arm in his fight against the Ku Klux Klan was made tonight in a statement by J. C. Walton, the deposed governor. The former governor also took occasion to comment on the activity in the state senate on the anti-Klan legislation which he proposed before being tried on impeachment charging that "no one can fail to see the cloven hoof of the invisible empire protrude from beneath the hypocritical robes of pretended innocence."

His statement was occasioned by the return of indictments against him yesterday by a district court grand jury here, charging that he diverted public funds to his own use, intimidated an officer by prohibiting the meeting of a grand jury during martial law, and preventing an assembly of the legislature. He is to be arraigned on these charges next Wednesday.

To all of the allegations the former executive entered a denial that his actions were unlawful and branded them as the work of his enemies in the K. K. K.

"The grand jury has presented seven indictments," the statement said. "When District Judge George W. Clark, acknowledged klanman, convened his court to empanel the grand jury on the occasion of paid emissaries in the Klan, and other interests hostile to my administration and to all laws and reasonable standard of decency, I presented a motion to the court, saying that the proceedings was a conspiracy concocted and carried forward by the Ku Klux Klan to destroy my power theretofore asserted to uncover and punish the pathetic and terrible crime it had lately committed throughout the state."

"The presiding judge of that court who for the moment had put off the mask and robe of the secret and criminal organization, to assume the spotless ermine of judicial authority, ordered my motion stricken from the record."

Enters Dramatics Again

"The mountain now has labored and brought forth a mouse. I am charged in five indictments with diversion of public funds because of the appointment of Mr. Edwards, this private chauffeur, in the department of public health and because he drew his salary. There is no syllable of evidence reflecting upon men of any suspicion of guilt in that transaction."

"Another indictment charges me with attempting to intimidate the district judge when during martial law at the instance of his fellow klanmen it was attempted to convene a grand jury to obstruct, hinder and impede the majesty of the law in its righteous effort to discover the perpetrators of nefarious crime and bring them to justice."

"In still another I am charged with dispersing the legislature, a body that all men know was convened with no authority other than the command of the grand dragon or the Imperial Wizard and financed from that source, a body that was by every mark an act convened unlawfully."

Calling attention to his previous charge that the legislature was dominated by the Ku Klux Klan; that the movement to impeach him was "hatched in the councils of the Klan" and that the senate court of impeachment did not give him a fair trial, the deposed governor adds:

"Was I right or wrong when I said that time would lay bare to the world the wickedness, the high-handed cruelty, the low groveling intrigue, the utter cowardice and villainy of the Ku Klux Klan and all that wear its mask or bow the knee to its dominion?"

"Time will uncover the truth and when it is known, as it assuredly will be, I hope to rejoice again in the friendship, the loyalty and approval of the magnificent citizenship of Oklahoma."

The statement was signed: J. C. Walton.

Wounded Vets See Game

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Half a dozen wounded veterans of the war, led by a man without an arm and a leg but with his khaki coat covered with decorations, occupied the presidential box today at the army-navy football game. They were the guests of W. Bascom Slem, secretary to President Coolidge.

KLANSMEN FEAST AFTER PARADING

Candidates Initiated in Ranks
Following Meeting at Convention Hall.

Ada Klansmen unmasked went on parade Friday night behind the martial strain of their adopted, "Outward Christian Soldiers," and then celebrated their jollity in a feast in the basement of the Memorial Convention Hall.

Ada traffic was checked for blocks in length paraded to the banquet hall.

As the columns of the alleged secret organization bore down Broadway to Thirteenth street and thence on Townsend to the Convention Hall, Ada picked out Tom, Dick and Harry as in ordinary grind of the life of Ada, unmasked and out for a jubilee.

Once inside the Convention Hall, local orators within the ranks of Klandom gave way to their convictions in addresses to the local knights and their visiting brethren of nearby towns, while it is claimed approximately 100 ladies of the Klan watched on from the balcony of the Convention Hall auditorium.

During the assembly 40 applicants were taken into the order in an initiatory service.

The feast of the Klansmen followed the initiation of the new members.

The Klan Hall was insufficient in space to accommodate the klansmen in attendance, said to be between 700 and 900.

WORK TO BE STARTED ON
KATY BRIDGE AT TYROLA

Work on the Katy bridge at Tyrola will probably begin in five to seven days, according to the general freight and passenger agent here. Mr. Harwell states that at present the repair men are engaged with the track between Shawnee and Oklahoma City, and on the completion of one bridge and equipment a mile of track will begin putting the big bridge near here in condition for use.

He estimates that about thirty days will be required before the bridge will be completely repaired, but says that probably twenty days of work will permit traffic to cross the river.

OKMULGEE BANKER IS PRONOUNCED GUILTY

(By the Associated Press)

OKMULGEE, Nov. 24.—J. Ray Brown, president of the defunct Bank of Commerce, tonight was found guilty of receiving deposits for an insolvent bank. The jury recommended that no prison term be imposed, but that the court fix the amount of fine to be paid by Brown. The jury was out seven hours.

CHANGE IN TARIFF RATE
ANNOUNCED IN ADA

The Chamber of Commerce was informed late Saturday that the St. Louis rate committee has recommended that the change in SWL Tariffs numbers 15 and 44 be allowed to rest until the Interstate Commerce Commission gives decision in INCC Docket 13535 which would bring about a general revision of rates to Oklahoma. This may temporarily block the attempt of the Ada Chamber of Commerce to get an adjustment made in the above numbered Tariffs to put Ada on the same rate basis as that of Chickasha which would mean that the local freight rate would be lowered in the neighborhood of six cents per hundred.

ADDITIONAL TRAIN SERVICE
BETWEEN SANTA FE POINTS

Additional passenger and freight train service on the Santa Fe lines was announced effective Saturday between Lehigh and Byars through Ada, according to J. H. Shaeffer, agent.

Instead of two-day service between these points as has been the schedule for the past two years, trains will be scheduled on a daily basis.

This service is offered patrons of the road for a more complete schedule for points between these terminals.

TIGERS DEFEAT RANGER ELEVEN

Local College Squad Scores
Three Touchdowns over
Northwestern Squad

Three touchdowns represented the triumph of the Ada Tigers over the Northwestern Rangers at Alva Friday when the local eleven showed marked superiority over their opponents. None of the tries for point counted, one of them being completed but being lost because of an offside player.

The fighting Tigers carried the ball by fine punts at will through the Ranger forwards and slipped around end for extra yardage. Ada was forced to punt only once, although three times the kick was used to advantage in advancing the ball.

Playing against a team that was a good match in weight and speed the Tigers so well protected their own goal line that the Rangers threatened only once and then when a long and a short pass had placed the ball just within the thirty-yard line. Another pass was intercepted and Ada kicked out of danger.

ATOKA GAME END OF ADA HI TRAIL

Local Grid Squad Suffers One Defeat During Most Successful Year.

For the closing match of a most successful season the football team of Ada high will journey to Atoka on Tuesday for their final game. Atoka is rated high among teams of that section but with little basis for comparison between the two teams local fans are confident of winning by a decisive score.

Opening the year with two regulars and three substitutes to build a team upon, Coach C. R. Cox has moulded one of the most powerful offensive teams ever produced at the high school here. Thus far the record stands at six games won and one lost, with prospects excellent for continuing their record for the entire schedule.

With only light material available the team was forced to develop a speedy defensive and a fighting defensive eleven. Competition for places on the team was fierce and little superiority has been shown between members of the team.

Opening the season the local players went to McAlester and surprised that place by hanging up a 17-8 win. Sulphur was the next victim, the red and white running up a total of over forty points against the heavier team.

Okmulgee proved to be the stumbling block to an unblemished record, smashing across three touchdowns in a muddy field. This game is being contested on the grounds of the use of an ineligible player by the Okmulgee team.

Paul Valley was trounced 25-0 in rain and mud of the big double-header game here. The powerful Henryetta combination using a heavy line and a fast backfield, threw a scare into fans when the first half of the game ended with the visitors nine points in the lead. In the second half, however, the Ada rolled up a 9-0 score against their supporters and ran up a score of 19 points while holding Henryetta scoreless.

Purcell fell before the speed and punch of Ada and finished the game scoreless while three touchdowns represented the score garnered by the locals. Purcell, however, threatened continually with a great passing offense.

Holdenville played gamely while Ada rolled up a 4-0 score against them last Friday, using the first team for only one quarter of the contest.

Graduation this year will remove a large number of this year's team. Hargis, Baker, Deaver, Page, and Floyd will not be available for the backfield. Sneed and Proctor at end will not be attending high. Willoughby, tackle and captain will finish. Kerr will not hold down his guard position and Whitwell, center and tackle will graduate, as will Jackson, general utility. Rayburn may return to hold down center.

These losses will leave of the first squad Fugue at halfback; Burkhardt at end; Butler at tackle; Stalcup at guard; and Norman at end.

The bright spot in the prospects for next year's eleven is the showing made by the players of the second team which engaged in four games and also took the major share of time in the last Holdenville game.

The inexperienced seconds lost to Coalgate and Holdenville but tied Allen and Roff, and offered an opportunity for development for these hoping to win places on the varsity next year. Those who will be left after graduation include: Anderson, captain and halfback; Clarke, quarterback; McKey, fullback; Canterbury halfback; Johnson, end; C. Burkhardt; Coleman.

Those lost from this team by graduation include: Smith, end and halfback; Johnson, tackle; Whitwell, tackle and guard; Wilmeth, center; Harwell, guard.

Holdenville Suffers Heavy Defeat from Ada High First String and Yearling Squad

Using the second team and substitutes for three quarters of the game and the regular varsity for only one fifteen minute period Ada high swept to a 98 to 6 victory over the visiting Holdenville high school football team Friday in the last home game of the local squad.

There were few superior lights in the game, both the first and second team worked well and advancing the score rapidly. Their opponents represented a group of green material, this being the first season of football for every member of the team with one exception.

In spite of the lack of experience of the visiting players the Holdenville high representatives fought gamely throughout the contest and twice threatened to score against the second team the first.

Fifteen touchdowns represented the heavy scoring of the local players, eight of them being secured by the first squad in its one quarter of play. The second team, strengthened most of the time by first team substitutes, accounted for the remaining seven.

The game opened with the second team facing the Holdenville players. For the entire first quarter the two teams battled on even terms, the visitors threatening twice as the result of long end runs by their star back. During this period the second made a drive that counted the first score of the game, when once running at quarterback, crossed the line. Anderson kicked the goal.

Only one game remains on the schedule for this season and will be played at Atoka next Tuesday. Ada has made a fine record, far and is rated one of the strongest teams of that section. There is no way in which to compare dope between the two teams but after watching the local team in action against Henryetta, Purcell and Paul Valley, local supporters are confident of a decisive victory.

This game represents an annual rivalry which was begun on the local gridiron a year ago when Ada triumphed over Atoka in Thanksgiving day after a hard fought battle.

Floyd Suggests Steps In Advancement Program for Pontotoc County Schools

Striving for the betterment of rural school conditions in Pontotoc county A. Floyd, County Superintendent, supplies a list of suggestions in an official letter sent to his office to teachers in charge of the various schools in the county.

A complete program for the advancement of school conditions is sounded in Floyd's list of suggestions, which include the interest and co-operation of the superintendent in this important endeavor.

Floyd has visited practically all the schools in the county and his suggestions are founded on the condition of schools in his jurisdiction.

Floyd's suggestions come with the responsibility those in charge of their effort in the advancement of education in county.

Floyd's most recent visit was to Francis, where he found conditions in excellent shape and the school at that place striving for a higher mark in service to the educational needs of the vicinity.

While Floyd directs his suggestions to the teachers of the county, he also sounds an appeal for public interest and co-operation, maintaining that the foundation of the school exists in the home.

Following is the official letter sent to teachers in the county:

Dear Teachers:

We want to make this a banner year for the schools of Pontotoc county. To do this, we need the fullest co-operation of patrons, boards, and teachers in all concerted moves of the county for the betterment of schools.

The State Program, as outlined by our State Superintendent, Mr. Nash, is Consolidation, Model school, and Illiteracy.

After visiting and observing practically every school in the county during the summer, I wish to offer the following suggestions that would aid some in putting the work over:

First: Each school should organize a Parents-Teachers Association. This would enable you to get the co-operation of the citizens of the community behind you in all school moves.

Second: Study the "Model School Score Card" sent out last summer and grade your school. If you do not have a card call at the office and I will furnish you with one. Remember some of our schools are going to be Model Schools. Do you want your school to be in that class?

Third: Improve your library for your grade pupils—Give them something to read. If you wish to purchase some books, we have a fine assortment in the office to assist you in your selections. If the district is not able to purchase books, take advantage of the Traveling Library. Write to the Oklahoma Library Commission, Oklahoma City and get the books you need. Here is where you Parent-Teachers' Association can help you. Teachers, if you will visit the homes of your pupils and see the small amount of reading matter they have in them, I am sure you would not neglect this the most important thing of all—GOOD READING FOR ALL.

Fourth: Increase you daily attendance by making your school interesting. In the fifteen dollar amendment, the money will be distributed on the basis of attendance. So if your school shares well you

Fans Awaits Savage And Tiger Clash

With the approach of Turkey Day the thoughts of all who have followed the career of the East Central Tigers throughout their most successful season in several years are turned to the titanic struggle which marks the annual final battle of the pigs in the mud between the Tigers and the Southeastern Savages.

The Ada team is in the best of condition for the battle and put forth all of the strength developed during a hard season for triumph over their ancient rivals. A terrific struggle is certain with the score uncertain, and with the Tigers fighting before their own home supporters Southeastern may look to her laurels in the 1923 season.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY SUFFERS RENT DEMANDS

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—The Standard Oil, like any other New York tenant, must pay rent on its home on Broadway in advance.

The appellate court has upheld the contention of the company's landlord, Elmer E. Smathers, that the quarterly rent of $6,000 must be paid in advance.

The company had refused to make advance payments because the words "in advance" had been omitted from the lease.

Other translations have been as ridiculous, the Department says. Vacuum cleaners have been made "cleaners of emptiness"; monkey wrenches, "wrenches of monkeys"; and iron washers, "machines clean iron."

COLLEGE NOTES

Special organizations of the college are running into their year's work and are beginning to take up their actual duties. Among these are the band, the orchestra, and the staff of the year book, the Peleg. Also, plans have been laid for a course of entertainments to be presented by the college. One of these, the junior-senior ball, is to be presented Thursday. The other, the operetta to be performed by the training school, is scheduled for some time during the coming month.

Extension Department

The extension department took on an appearance of unusual activity last week when faculty members of the college visited a large number of their classes over the district. These report excellent work being done by those who are unable to secure their work at the school itself during the winter months.

Through the extension department groups of teachers may meet at specified intervals and select a teacher who conducts the work for the class. In this way credit can be secured without actual attendance here and helps teachers to show their qualifications more rapidly.

During the past week a number of trips were made to these classes. H. R. Robinson visited Roff and Sulphur and spoke to classes organized to study education. R. S. Newcomer and E. H. Nelson drove to Stonewall, Tupelo, and Coalgate. E. C. Wilson went to Coalton and Preston to encourage the work of classes at those places. Professor Myers went to Coalgate Wednesday to organize a class there in foreign languages. M. B. Molloy on Tuesday visited a class at Allen.

Musical organizations

Music organizations of the college, especially the band and orchestra, have progressed in their work to the point where they can make public performances and carry on the work of advertising the school begun by the band last year.

The second week in December is planned for the band over a portion of the district in the interest of the school. The itinerary so far includes stops at Byars, Purcell, Maysville, Pauls Valley, Boys Training School, Wynnewood, Davis, Daugherty, and Sulphur. Noon and evening programs are being arranged. It is probable that three like trips will be taken by the band during the year.

The college orchestra will represent the college at Seminole on county teacher meeting of Seminole county. On that date the band will appear at Coalgate. Both organizations are under the direction of L. Fontenot.

We would all appreciate Jack's Thanksgiving proclamation. We have much to be thankful for in Oklahoma.

Just because there are plenty un-crossed chickens on the street, that's no indication everyone is observing Thanksgiving holidays.

It has been proven that Miss Jones' dances are the only kind in vogue at the East Central college.

Girls who go into the woods in March or April should beware of squirrels.

Any youth has lost his opportunity with the best girl because he couldn't dress like the men in the collar ads.

It isn't necessary to get on your knees to propose any more since he girls prefer to

SOCIAL MEETING OF WOODMEN'S CIRCLE

The Woodmen's Circle reports a delightful time at a social meeting held on the evening of November 23.

A large number of members turned out to greet Mrs. M. G. Meadows, state manager of the order for many years past. She spoke in an interesting manner about the many good points of the society and expressed the deep interest she feels in the welfare of the grove at Ada to which she has been a frequent visitor during her term of service and was enthusiastic about the coming membership campaign.

An entertaining feature of the occasion was a hat making contest. Each member was supplied with crepe paper in the colors of the Circle, lavender, green and white, and then all joined in a grand march wearing the hats. A prize was given for the best hat.

Another enjoyable feature was a reading by Miss Mattie Faust.

The concluding event of the evening was the serving of refreshments.

MRS. M. C. TAYLOR HONORS BRIDE TO BE

Miss Annie Carroll Simpson whose marriage announcement was made by Mrs. P. A. Norris at a beautifully appointed bridge luncheon last Tuesday has been the recipient of many social courtesies during the week, one of which was an afternoon at bridge with Mrs. M. C. Taylor, 129 W. 16th, Wednesday afternoon from two-thirty until five.

Yellow chrysanthemums and roses were used for decorations.

Those sharing the pleasure with Miss Simpson were Mrs. Erb Lambert of Okmulgee, and Miss Mary Louise Coates of Oklahoma City, Mrs. Yandell Lair of Holdenville, Miss Dorothy Duncan, Mrs. A. T. Boggan, Mrs. Orel Busby, Mrs. M. L. Lewis, Mrs. Jim Chapman, Mrs. N. B. Haney, Mrs. Harmon Ebey, Mrs. Ben McKinley, Mrs. Calhoun Sparks, Mrs. T. B. Blake, Mrs. Blatt Gilbreath and Mrs. R. W. Simpson.

A cut glass nappy was awarded Miss Coates for high score while the honor guest was presented with an exquisite boudoir box by Mrs. Taylor.

PRESBYTERIANS SPONSOR MOVE OF HONEST BILL NEWTON

Members of the Presbyterian congregation are sponsoring the benevolent move of Honest Bill Newton in giving the entire proceeds of the home-coming show of his circus at Ada on December 1 to the benefit of the financial fund of the Presbyterian church building plans.

Church organizations as well as the general public are said to be looking forward to this opportunity of seeing Honest Bill's entertainment and at the same time contributing in an indirect way to the financial obligations of the church.

Members of the Presbyterian congregation have interested themselves in boosting this occasion.

MISS DUNCAN ENTERTAINS IN HONOR OF DECEMBER BRIDE

"Hearts" was the game of the hour for those who were greeted by Miss Dorothy Duncan in her home on South Broadway Saturday afternoon when she entertained honoring Miss Annie Carroll Simpson, who is shortly to wed Mr. Charles Weston Roodhouse of Okmulgee. Those receiving with Miss Duncan were Miss Simpson, Mrs. R. W. Simpson, Mrs. Annie Byrd, Miss Ethel James Byrd, Miss Mary Norris and Mrs. James Chapman.

A color note of pink and orange prevailed in the house decorations of roses and chrysanthemums.

Guests included Mesdames Taylor, Blake, Nethery, Murphy, Jackson, Chaney, H. Ebey, Boggan, Dayless, B. McKinley, J. McKinley, King, Sparks, Norris, Wilson, Sandbach, Hunter, Lewis, Busby, Rodarmel, Manville, Hill, Wesley, Chaney, Cummings, Shelton, Haney, Becker, Hager, Gowing, P. S. Case, Misses Frances, Eunice, Junie, Bills, and Miss Janie Epperson.

Mrs. C. V. Gowing made high score, Miss Simpson was presented with a dainty fudge apron.

BUFFET BRIDGE IN HONOR OF MISS SIMPSON

Autumn's glow of orchid and gold was shed throughout the home of Mrs. M. C. Wilson at 201 South Townsend Thursday afternoon when Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Chas. H. Rives entertained with a buffet-bridge luncheon honoring Miss Annie Carroll Simpson, whose marriage December 4th to Mr. Charles Weston Roodhouse of Okmulgee promises to be the outstanding social event of the season.

Yellow roses and mammoth yellow chrysanthemums tied with orchid tulip were used in profusion through the rooms and formed the centerpiece for the dining table where sheer madras linen and silver candlesticks holding tapers of orchid made a fitting shrine for the bride-to-be who was seated under a rainbow canopy with its pot of gold, shedding radiant smiles upon the friends who joined in wishes for a life of sunshine and happiness.

Mrs. Rives and Mrs. Wilson were other reason for the significance of the picture.

Oliver Cromwell was leader of the Parliamentary Party which shamed at their lack of voice in government. Charles I was king. He disdained the Parliamentarians and vested power in the Cavalier Party, the lords, or royalists, were known. Cromwell led a revolution and, from 1642 through 1649, civil war was waged in England, ending with the execution of Charles I. Four years later Cromwell was made Lord Protector of England. And he established the foundations for the present popular government.

"The Fighting Blade" depicts one of the most dramatic episodes of the historic conflict, reciting the exploits and the romance of the valorous Kerstenbrook (played by Richard Barthelmess). A Flemish soldier of fortune who gained fame as the most deadly duelist in all Europe and who circumstances was drawn to the people's side in their fight for the right to govern themselves, and who paved the way for Cromwell's success. The picture unfolds a story which, even without its historic background would be a tremendously fascinating entertainment. In addition to the star, the cast includes Dorothy Mackail, Frederick Burton, Morgan Wallace, Lee Baker, Bradley Barker, Stuart Page, Allyn King and others—a sterling cast in a unusually worthy and worthwhile picture.

Tobacco Cooperative Market
Nearly Half of Country's Crop

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 25—Tobacco cooperatives did a big business with last year's crop, eight producer-owned and controlled associations marketing nearly 600,000,000 pounds of tobacco or nearly one-half of the total crop produced, the Department of Agriculture reports. The eight associations have 259,840 members. The larger organizations are the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association of Lexington, Ky., with 90,607 members, which marketed 197,000,000 pounds and the Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association of Raleigh, N. C., comprising 90,224 members, which marketed 163,000,000 pounds and The Dark Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association at Hopkinsville, Ky., having 64,000 members, which marketed 175,000,000 pounds. Other associations are at Madison, Wis.; Hartford, Conn.; Baltimore, Md.; Baldwinville, La., and Convent, La.

THE PLAYHOUSE OF CHARACTER

A Drama of Hearts and Swords

The romance of an intrepid youth and an impetuous maid who are drawn by chance into the dramatic events leading to the overthrow of a tyrant in an epochal revolution.

A story of love and life and death, brilliantly depicted in one of the season's most magnificent productions.

All the resources of an ambitious producer lavished with enthusiasm into the creation of a picture destined to be remembered everlastingly.

A JOHN S. ROBERTSON PRODUCTION

It is not amiss to call to mind the never-to-be-forgotten performances of Richard Barthelmess in "Tol'able David," in "Soony," in "The Bright Shawl." Never has a star reached the hearts of his audiences as sincerely or as consistently as this versatile star. And now a romance role; a drama of the days of chivalry; a special among special productions—with the star in a role more vigorous, more dashing, more lovable. The picture of all of his pictures you will find most glorious. And, like the others,

EDUCATORS PLANNING PROGRAM TO CUT DOWN COUNTY ILLITERACY

The city public schools under the direction of City Superintendent Hickman, and the county schools under the direction of County Superintendent Floyd, and the Teachers College are joining efforts with the Federated Women's Clubs, the American Legion, and the churches in an attempt to reduce illiteracy in Central Oklahoma in general and in Ada in particular.

It is the plan of the educational institutions of the city that schools for adult illiterates in Ada in the near future will be opened at some convenient point in the city, and will be taught by teachers who have ample experience in teaching adults who have not had the benefit of an education. There will be absolutely no charge for instruction, and the cost of books and material will be reduced to a minimum.

A meeting will be held Tuesday afternoon at which there will be representatives of the Federated Women's Club, the churches, the American Legion, the Lions' Club, the Chamber of Commerce, and the various schools of the city. Definite announcement as to the school will be made after the meeting.

There are in Oklahoma approximately 56,000 adult illiterates, 40,000 of them being native whites, the remainder negroes and Indians. Pontotoc county is accredited by the 1920 census with a rate of 900 illiterates. The exact number of illiterates in the city of Ada is unknown and one of the first steps in the campaign against illiteracy will be an effort to determine this number and to reduce it to a minimum.

The East Central Teachers College has been taking a very active interest in the campaign against illiteracy. During the summer school two conferences were held here which were attended by all of the County Superintendents, and eminent educators. Plans were prepared under the direction of State Superintendent Nash for reducing or entirely eliminating illiteracy. The Extension Department and the Director of Rural Education have made the campaign against illiteracy one of the important factors in their work, and schools for adults who are unable to read and write have been organized in several districts in each of the counties in the territory under the direction of East Central. In Pontotoc county the teachers are making a preliminary survey, and several schools are to be established within the next few days. Francis has completed the preliminary work and will have a school of this type in operation next week. Ada should take the lead in this matter, with the exceptionally good public school system of this city, and with the live Civic and Women's Clubs, it should be possible to provide every adult who desires to do so an opportunity to read and write and manipulate the elements of Arithmetic, together with furnishing instruction in History and Government.

IRVING SCHOOL

The girl's basketball team defeated the Willard team Tuesday, score 7 to 2.

The boy's football team had a very enjoyable trip to Roff Wednesday afternoon. The Roff school has a good clean team and the boys enjoyed playing with them.

We have had a number of visitors this week. Thursday the following members of the Lion's Club visited us: Messrs S. M. Shaw, F. J. McFarland, Rev. Blackburn, M. E. Wilson, C. W. Fisher, Harry Scheinberg, M. C. Taylor, R. L. Bradley, C. V. Gowin and C. E. Cunningham.

We welcome visitors at any time.

We have gone "over the top" in securing our pledge for the high school football game, November 22.

On November 27 the Willard school is coming over for a spelling match of course we expect to win.

On next Wednesday afternoon, November 28th, the boy's football team will play Allen here. Come out if you want to see a good game.

Our girls' second basketball team made another visit to Willard yesterday and enjoyed one of the finest games of the season with Willard's second team. The final score was 8 to 2 in our favor.

To those teams we have not met we would like very much to compete our circle and see who's who and why.

We now have our boys' basketball court in fine shape and will meet all those who choose us.

GLENWOOD SCHOOL

The pupils of Glenwood enjoyed the sing-song at assembly Friday morning. Mr. O'Neal, the evangelist, was with us and made a very instructive and interesting address.

The 5th, 6th, 7th, and 8th grades are preparing to put on a minstrel in the near future, the downstairs will have concessions in their respective rooms. There will be a popularity contest and other features to raise money for the school. The school is planning to attend the big game between Holdenville and "Hi" Friday afternoon. We want to see our high school win more laurels.

Trapp, Governor of Oklahoma

Governor Martin Edward Trapp became governor a political figure whose character has never been successfully assailed has ascended to the highest position within the gift of the people of Oklahoma.

That's the outstanding fact about Trapp, in this day of crumbling idols.

"If there was anything seriously the matter with Trapp it would have been found out before this, his friends reason.

"You know Oklahoma politics," they go on. "A man does not have to stand on his political record alone. If his personal record is weak in essential particulars he is soon disposed of. Look up and down the line of fallen political leaders. Half of them have dropped by the wayside for what they did outside their regular duties."

This doesn't mean that Trapp hasn't been assailed. He has, and more than one occasion. There are people throughout the state who are not confident that he will be a good governor. But it is unfair to say that even a quarter of the voters feel this way about it for they don't.

Trapp has his active personal enemies, like all other leading figures in politics. And many of them are sincere. A vigorous attempt was made to throw him out of office of lieutenant governor during Robertson's term as governor. And an attempt was made later to have a grand jury indict him.

"But neither move succeeded" his friends point out. "You can be sure that if Trapp was wrong he couldn't have survived the political attacks of years."

And the records show that he has been a political leader for that he is. His political career may be said to date from 1904, when he was elected county clerk, as a Democrat, in Logan county, which was heavily Republican. It was an astonishing result. His majority was 1,111, while the county went Republican by 1650. Every heart in Logan county seemed to go out to a boy who had done his part so nobly in a well-nigh hopeless struggle with poverty. In 1907, he was nominated and elected Oklahoma's first state auditor, serving in that position until 1911, when he took up the business of bond broker and buyer, in which capacity, as a private citizen, he settled in Muskogee and achieved conspicuous success.

Enters State Politics

In 1914 he was a successful candidate in the Democratic primary and in the following election, for the office of Lieutenant governor. He was again nominated and elected to the same office in 1918, and again nominated by his party as its standard bearer for this position in the recent August primaries.

As Lieutenant governor his constitutional functions were to preside over the upper branch of the legislature and act as governor when the chief executive was absent from the state. During his entire public career, Acting Governor Trapp has given proof of such loyalty and devotion to his state and party as but few others in his checkered annals have been able to show. Not only does he display high qualities of mind and character, as a trained executive and legislator, but his genial smile, his cheerful disposition, and his broad human sympathies, all combine to impart an irresistible charm to a personality which is uniquely his own.

Oklahoma has served as a melting pot of varied and conglomerate elements out of which its present day citizens have emerged with characteristics when cast upon them the imprint and flavor of a distinctive type. An inspiring example of this type for the youth of Oklahoma is the present day governor, as he worked his way upward from humble beginnings with only such resources at hand as his head and heart could supply.

Father a Tenant Farmer

Born in 1877, on a farm in Kansas, of parents who had come from Missouri and Mississippi. Martin E. Trapp was the 10th child in a family of 11. His father was only a tenant farmer, and like many other men who had risen to positions of eminence in this country, this school of "hard knocks" seems to have produced in the child a character typical of American frontier conditions.

At the age of six, the parents moved to a rented farm in Nebraska where they remained six years giving their children, as best they could, the rudiments of such education as the country schools supplied.

At the opening, they came to Logan county, Oklahoma, where they settled on a blackjack farm. There the boy lived and had his being in a life of struggle and want until he reached the age of 24. He cleared and did all manner of farm work. At one time, we find him hauling wood to Guthrie with a yoke of oxen; at another time, handling a grub plow for the pitiful wages of 25 cents a day, all to procure a scant livelihood for the numerous ones at home.

In 1890, there was almost a famine in the land. There was nothing to eat and no money with which to supply life's barren necessities. In the winter, Congress appropriated $50,000 with which to relieve this distress, at which time young Trapp at the tender age of 14 years, was seen to stand in line, awaiting his turn to receive that pitiful largess which was deemed necessary to save these early settlers from starvation.

It was about 1893 that J. L. McDaniel, a farmer of independent means and benevolent disposition, employed Trapp as ashore header and becoming impressed with the boy, later took him to his home where he was provided with the facilities for a more extensive education than could otherwise have fallen to his lot. He went to Guthrie, entering a commercial college academic course. His later career was to show how well he deserved the affectionate care his friend and benefactor bestowed upon him.

Knows the Farmer's Problems

Trapp is not, like Walton, a professed devotee of the Shavian platform. But neither is Trapp a hide-bound conservative. While he deprecates the entrance of the farmers, and any other class, into politics as a class, he at the same time conscious of the fact that farmers have many problems to meet, and he is open-minded regarding the solution of those problems.

Trapp is himself, it must be remembered, a product of the farm. When a lad of 12, at the opening, he knew the bitter pinch of poverty and the untold toll involved in clearing and improving the tough blackjack country in Logan county. For several years young Trapp put a man's strength into the thankless task of clearing a farm out of this obdurate country, and he knows, therefore, from sad experience, what the trials of the farmer are.

Trapp thinks the principal problem of farming is the distribution of the farmer's products, at less waste than that involved in the present most uneconomical system. But he feels there is little the state can do to help the farmer along this line. The problem is, national in scope, and then one of the education of individual farmers in cooperation.

Flavored Warehouse Law

Trapp favored the warehouse law and the other farm legislation enacted by the regular session of the ninth legislature. He is not certain the state will be enabled to do much for the farmers through the warehouse law. But, as he figures it, something may be done, and the plight of the farmers is so distressing, and it would be of such vast benefit to all the state to make them more prosperous, that he feels the state is justified in gambling something. Even if the entire sum appropriated were lost, the state would not be hurt to any noticeable extent.

Regarding national legislation, which he considers for more necessary, and potentially hopeful than anything the state can do. Trapp holds the same idea, that it is worth while venturing something on the chance of hitting the remedy. Trapp has no hard and fast program. He would probably say he would be ready to try anything on which the farmers themselves might agree upon, provided it did not involve too great an expenditure of public funds. Any reasonable experiment in national marketing would probably have his support.

How He Differs From Sweet

Out in Colorado the Democrats

elected a governor, William E. Sweet, who is probably the most radical who ever occupied high power in the United States. Sweet believes that the capitalistic system is a failure, and that it is necessary to replace it, step by step, as experience shows the way, with a co-operative system. It just happens that Trapp, like Sweet, is a bond dealer, and, if not as wealthy as the Colorado governor, is at least well-to-do. But Trapp doesn't believe the capitalistic system is done for. He thinks it is the best system yet devised by man, and that it could not be replaced, certainly not by anything we now know.

And yet, with regard to practical programs, Trapp and Sweet are not so far apart. The Coloradoan believes the revolution he desires can come only step by step, and his program for farm relief is a most moderate one. Trapp, on the contrary, who fears a revolution, believes it can be prevented only as those who believe himself, believe in and have profited by the capitalistic system, take wise steps to extend more widely the participation of the masses of the people, and especially of the farmers, in the benefits of the present system.

Believes in Organization

Of course Trapp holds, as does Sweet, that the greatest benefit to the farmers can come only through their own awakening and organization. He feels, therefore that the co-operative organization of the farmers is the thing that offers them most hope, and for that reason he will undoubtedly be found sponsoring anything the farm marketing organizations, such as the Oklahoma Cotton Growers' Association and the Oklahoma Wheat Growers' Association, ask in the way of legislation. More than he undoubtedly will, any time he is called upon to do so, lead the weight of his influence to urge the farmers to align himself with these marketing organizations.

But Trapp knows too, from first-hand experience, how hard is the lot of the tenant farmers and how a large portion of them are so ground down in poverty, so lacking in all ambition, and in all knowledge of what to do, that the difficulty of organizing the farmers is increased two-fold. Even with regard to the children there is no great hope, since they must spend a great part of their young lives in the cotton fields, and even in localities where there are up-to-date educational facilities, are in too many instances denied a chance to enjoy them as they should.

Has An Open Mind

Trapp is rather skeptical as to the ability of the state to do much for these people. As regards the farmers he thinks the task almost hopeless. But here again Trapp's open-mindedness, and his personal knowledge of the need would probably induce him to champion a plan, if it did not involve, at first, too great a raid upon the state treasury, that would have as its aim the assistance of the tenant in securing homes of their own.

Trapp has been too busy making money as a bond dealer to do any deep study to what has been done in other lands in regard to solving, or attempting to solve, the tenant problem. But, unlike many business men he has kept an open mind. On few subjects he is dogmatic. He is willing to listen to the other fellow. And even the fact that a plan has never been tried before doesn't necessarily condemn it in his eyes. He is among those who realize the world has moved forward.

So if a reasonable home owner's plan could be evolved, Trapp would undoubtedly listen to it. One such plan has been tried in Oklahoma, and has been proved a dismal failure—and Trapp knows all about it. So a new plan would find him undoubtedly doubtful as to its success.

But, as remarked above, if it were advanced confessedly as an experiment, without making too great demands upon the treasury and were safeguarded from the defects that developed in the first plan tried here, Trapp would probably be willing to give it a trial. And he wouldn't try to put spokes in the wheels, just to prove it, couldn't be made a success, either; he would undoubtedly be honest in giving it a fair trial.

To sum up, then the farmers of Oklahoma, when Trapp is finally seated in the governor's chair will have a chief executive a man who is in thorough sympathy with them who believes that the chief aim of government today should be to better farming conditions generally, and thus allay an unrest which he thinks is growing dangerous, and which will meet them halfway on any reasonable proposition they may advance.

He doesn't have any panacea of his own, and doesn't in fact believe in panaceas, and perhaps that fact makes him a better friend of the farmers than a man who has some one particular reform in mind, which he thinks will solve all ills.

Grandfather an Evangelist

Trapp has just received a letter from T. W. Blackman, proprietor of Rockwood farm, at Weleetka, inquiring as to Trapp's grandfather.

Blackman read, in the Tribune's story of Mrs. Trapp in a recent issue, that Trapp's grandfather was a Christian evangelist.

"I was brought into the church," Blackman wrote, "through the preaching of an evangelist named Trapp back in Missouri." He went on to say that the evangelist was William Trapp, who lived in Graham, Mo. Blackman was acquainted with the evangelist's son, Prince Trapp, and wrote to inquire if Trapp was a member of the same family.

He is William Trapp, who was known all through the Christian church in Missouri as 'Uncle Billy' was the grandfather of the new governor, and Prince Trapp is his uncle.

Newspaper Man Secretary

Newspaper men are usually selected for the secretarialships to governors. That is because they know how to handle a vast amount of detail work in the shortest space of time and most efficiently, and because they are uniformly trustworthy and pleasant.

Parker LaMoore, the young Oklahoma City reporter selected by Governor Trapp, is no exception to the rule which applies in state capitols throughout the nation. Or rather, if he is above the average in ability.

An insight into LaMoore's friendliness and faithfulness came to light at the time Fred Daniels, the accused state banking commissioner surrendered to Governor Walton. Although the governor hated the paper for which LaMoore wrote—and it is a substantial hate he has, too—he called LaMoore out of all the reporters in the capital and reported the facts to him. He had a high regard for LaMoore, even if he didn't have for his paper.

And it is something to be able to remain on terms like that with the man your paper has centered all its big guns upon; take the word of another newspaperman for that!

LaMoore was born March 15, 1897, at Jamestown, North Dakota.

He has worked as a newspaperman since 1919, having previously engaged in such work while attending school from 1914 to 1916. He was employed as Washington correspondent for three years, and for almost two years was employed as political reporter for the Daily Oklahoman.

McKEOWN LEAVES FOR NATIONAL CAPITAL

Congressman and Mrs. Tom D. McKeown left Friday for Washington where they will arrange the details of their affairs before the opening of Congress December 3.

The preliminary work of the two party organizations will be done next week in the caucuses and perhaps the program of the coming session tentatively mapped out.

The session promises to be of considerable importance to all concerned as the next presidential campaign may hinge to a considerable extent on the record made by this congress.

AIR SERVICE IS HANDICAPPED NOW

Inadequate Funds for Support of Air Service Sounded in Patrick Report.

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—A frank statement of the "inadequacies" of the Army Air Service from a standpoint of personnel, finance, equipment and other essential factors was made today by Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the Army's aviation forces in his annual report to Secretary Weeks.

"The peace organization of the Air Service," General Patrick said, "now bears no relation to the war requirements and affords little or no foundation upon which war requirements in either personnel or material can be built."

He added that the 1,461 officers allowed the Service as a result of the reduction of army commissioning personnel to 12,000 are "far short of requirements" and conditions demand "substantial" increase in both enlisted and commissioned personnel.

"As a result of these various reductions and inadequacies the Air Service is operating on a basis which does not permit the fulfillment of its mission," General Patrick declared. "Any further reduction will result in greater deficiencies and only a substantial increase can enable it to meet the demands upon it. If the required number of officers were available, if the enlisted strength were adequate or if sufficient civilians might be employed the difficulties would not be so perplexing, but with continued reductions in every class of personnel, efficient operation becomes an impossibility."

General Patrick conceded the impossibility of developing a comprehensive airway system because of existing conditions in the service. He has been unable, the report said, to establish new flying fields or retain old ones established during the war in a way that would "stimulate commercial aeronautics" or "fulfill the strategic requirements of national defense."

"In this connection," the report continued, "attention must be again invited to the deplorable conditions which prevail at all air service stations. With the exception of a very few isolated permanent buildings the entire air service outfit was initiated during the war, pushed to hasty conclusion and destined to last from two to four years. These accommodations have now been in continual use since 1917 and while the maintenance costs mount higher and higher with each succeeding year the living conditions become more and more unsatisfactory. Lansbury Field (Va.) is the only air service station with an appreciable amount of permanent construction and even Lansbury has no barracks for enlisted men except the one building which Congress recently authorized. A complete reconstruction program is imperative and nothing short of immediate and general relief can be relied upon to meet the situation."

Funds Now Inadequate
One conclusion emphasized by General Patrick is that a program be adopted for the proper equipment of the air service.

"It is considered that the annual appropriations for the support of the air service since the world war have been inadequate," the report said. "In view of the rapid development of aviation the requirements of continued engineering and research work constitute an imperative need while the shortage of aircraft occasioned by the lack of funds for replacement will shortly present an extremely critical situation. It is therefore urgently recommended that a program be adopted and adhered to until this service is properly equipped and on an efficient operating basis."

"Emphasis must be placed on the critical condition which exists with regard to major items of equipment, viz., airplanes, airships, and balloons."

"The great majority of the aircraft now on hand were produced during the war, are rapidly deteriorating and even when completely reconditioned, have but a very short life. Furthermore, 80 per cent of the airplanes are of an obsolescent training type unsuitable for combat purposes. It is absolutely essential that the purchase of new aircraft to replace that produced during the war and to offset the constantly increasing shortage, be undertaken immediately. Since it requires about 18 months to secure delivery after a contract has been executed, it is apparent that no relief from the present situation can be expected before 1926. Appropriations now being made for the purchase of new aircraft are insufficient to meet the requirements of even the present inadequate peace-time establishments.

General Patrick conceded the impossibility of developing a comprehensive airway system because of existing conditions in the service. He has been unable, the report said, to establish new flying fields or retain old ones established during the war in a way that would "stimulate commercial aeronautics" or "fulfill the strategic requirements of national defense."

"In this connection," the report continued, "attention must be again invited to the deplorable conditions which prevail at all air service stations. NORMAN, Nov. 22.—(Special)—

One girl of every four enrolled in the University of Oklahoma is working her way partly or wholly through school this year, according to Emil R. Kraettli, secretary of the University. General conditions in the state have caused the percentage to be slightly higher this year than usual, Kraettli thinks.

The great majority of the aircraft now on hand were produced during the war, are rapidly deteriorating and even when completely reconditioned, have but a very short life. Furthermore, 80 per cent of the airplanes are of an obsolescent training type unsuitable for combat purposes. It is absolutely essential that the purchase of new aircraft to replace that produced during the war and to offset the constantly increasing shortage, be undertaken immediately. Since it requires about 18 months to secure delivery after a contract has been executed, it is apparent that no relief from the present situation can be expected before 1926. Appropriations now being made for the purchase of new aircraft are insufficient to meet the requirements of even the present inadequate peace-time establishments.

General Patrick conceded the impossibility of developing a comprehensive airway system because of existing conditions in the service. He has been unable, the report said, to establish new flying fields or retain old ones established during the war in a way that would "stimulate commercial aeronautics" or "fulfill the strategic requirements of national defense."

"In this connection," the report continued, "attention must be again invited to the deplorable conditions which prevail at all air service stations. With the exception of a very few isolated permanent buildings the entire air service outfit was initiated during the war, pushed to hasty conclusion and destined to last from two to four years. These accommodations have now been in continual use since 1917 and while the maintenance costs mount higher and higher with each succeeding year the living conditions become more and more unsatisfactory. Lansbury Field (Va.) is the only air service station with an appreciable amount of permanent construction and even Lansbury has no barracks for enlisted men except the one building which Congress recently authorized. A complete reconstruction program is imperative and nothing short of immediate and general relief can be relied upon to meet the situation."

Oatmeal not Accepted as Animal Diet

(By the Associated Press)

LEIPZIG.—Oatmeal as a substitute for meat for the carnivorous animals of the Leipzig zoo has been tried out with interesting but not particularly successful results. Meatless days reached the zoo here some months ago, because of the high prices, the principal outcome of the experiment being, it has been noted, a decided falling off if the visit of the stork.

The lions and tigers and wolves became thin and ill tempered, and howled a great deal at night and howled again in the morning right after breakfast when oatmeal day after day was dished out to them.

Although stenographic work leads the list of things girls do to help pay their expenses here, the occupations are many and varied. There are at present 50 doing stenographic work down town. The library comes next in the number of girls employed with twelve on the payroll. A number of girls want housework, and this requires no experience and is easy to find.

A great many advance students are assistants in the university, teaching or laboratory assistants or grading papers for the instructors. A few are tutors. Several care for children. Some play for the theatre and for gymnasium. They act as models, mend clothes, and solicit for magazines.

Unless a student is highly specialized it is useless for her to try to make all her expenses here.

Taking her regular school work she cannot possibly make more than $40 a month. The university pays 30 cents an hour for work the first year, and 35 cents thereafter. Those students who are carrying 16 hours university work can work but 100 hours for the University each month.

That helping to pay ones way at school does not hurt a girl socially, is proved by some of the most popular girls on the campus working, said Kraettli.

Beginning in August, applications come into the president's office, to the Y. W. C. A. office, and to the office of the dean of women for positions for girls for the coming year. With each application is enclosed a personal history of the girl, telling her ambition to get an education "at any price," her preference of work, and recommendations from high school teachers.

These applications are filed at the president's office and an effort is made to secure positions for the students. The Y. W. C. A. secretary, Miss Helen Ruth Holbrook and Miss Ethel Lyons, dean of women, co-operate with the president's office in helping to secure positions for the students. The students who apply for positions through the university are usually刷新。 Those who have had at least a year in school here, generally apply for their own positions or secure one before they go home in the spring.

There are more newspapers in Cairo, Egypt, than any other city of its size in the world, recent statistics show.

twins, appear within the bear enclosure. The Leipzig zoo is one of the main sources of supply for many German trained animal shows and frequent shipments are made from here to the United States.

The animal keepers contend that if they had an abundance of cream and sugar to add to the oatmeal possibly the beasts would soon relish their meals once more and that the stork would again begin to appear at regular intervals.

Whalers Active in Antarctic.

CHRISTANIA.—The whaling industry has come back in Norway, and it now holds an important position in the economic life of the country. Last year the operations in the Antarctic brought in 50,000,000 crowns. Sixty-six whaling vessels are in commission, and 3,000 persons are engaged in the business.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

THE DAILY CLEANSING:—Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil speaking, be put away from you with all malice.—Ephesians 4:31.

NEW PARTY POSSIBILITIES.

It is practically certain that at least one new party of some size will be in the field next year with the possibility of several smaller ones. Of course these will draw considerable numbers from the two old parties and may in that way exert considerable influence in the final result.

On the other hand, should a third party gain sufficient strength to carry the electoral votes of a number of states so that neither of the old party nominees would have a clear majority in the electoral college, another interesting situation will develop. In such event the election would go to the lower house of congress. Under the constitution each state has one vote and this one vote would be cast according to the party the majority of the delegation was affiliated with. In such a eventuality Nevada with its one representative would have as much voice in the election as New York and Pennsylvania with the big delegations they send to congress.

Twice in the history of the United States the election has gone to the house. The constitution originally provided that each elector should vote for two men. The one receiving the highest number of electoral votes would be declared elected president, in case he had a clear majority, and the second man would be declared vice president. Washington received a unanimous vote twice and John Adams receiving the second highest vote was the vice president. When Adams succeeded Washington, Jefferson was his opponent. Adams received three more votes than did Jefferson, hence the latter was the vice-president. At the next election, party lines were drawn tightly and Jefferson's party decided to capture both the presidency and the vice-presidency. Jefferson and Aaron Burr of course received the same number of votes while Adams was a bad third. However, the friends of Adams controlled a sufficient number of states to make the vote in the house between Jefferson and Burr a tie and a serious situation resulted. For a time it looked as if the government might fail because a president could not be elected. In the end patriotism prevailed over partisanship and some of Burr's votes were switched to Jefferson and Burr became vice-president. The constitution was immediately amended so that each elector should designate his choice for both president and vice president, and the election of the vice president was placed in the senate which was limited in its voting to the two highest candidates so that an election could not fail.

The war of 1812 destroyed the Federalist party which had opposed it so that the Democratic party was for a number of years the only one. In 1828 four members of this party were candidates. All received some electoral votes but none a majority. Andrew Jackson was the high man with John Quincy Adams second. Henry Clay, who was either third or fourth in the race, threw his strength to Adams and he was elected. The Whig party was organized shortly afterwards which in turn was succeeded by the Republican, and party lines have been closely drawn ever since. It is not likely that another president will be chosen by a unanimous vote as was Washington.

The Tulsa Tribune tells of a man who blew into that city recently announcing himself as a carburetor expert employed by the government to give free service to owners of automobiles. Quite a few availed themselves of his services but it is said that the garages did a flourishing business for several days afterwards repairing the damage done by the "expert". We are unable to say whether the government has gone to such an extreme as to employ men for such work as this, but if it is true it is high time that such a system were abolished. Just why the nation should be taxed to pay salaries for such things as this is beyond our comprehension. Too many on the pay rolls already.

The drive on illiteracy in Oklahoma will give many a person who was denied educational advantages in youth a chance to at least get a start towards an education. Many a person has freed himself of the shackles of illiteracy after reaching mature years and merited the applause of all for his efforts. Being able to read and write means the opening of a new world to many. It might be well to remember that Andrew Johnson, who succeeded Lincoln as president of the United States, learned to read and write after he was married. With that start he kept going until he reached the highest place in the gift of the American people.

Senator Magnus Johnson, newly elected senator from Minnesota, has given notice that he wants to work hard when congress meets. He probably will find himself working extremely hard before he has been there long if he tries to put any legislation past Lodge and the other members of the old guard. However, it is likely that after a session or two Johnson's burst of energy will abate somewhat and he will be ready to drop back and take things easy.

Another German cabinet has fallen. Such a thing seldom happened in the good old days when the kaiser was the boss. As long as a cabinet member did his bidding he was safe.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION FEATURES OBSERVED HERE

The East Central State Teachers College and the Ada public schools are fostering physical education for both boys and girls. Saturday is national physical education day, and will be fittingly observed by Miss Anna Weaver Jones and her classes at the college.

Thirty-two states have adopted a physical education program and others are preparing to do so. This is not a new wrinkle or fad, since physical education is the survivor of many centuries.

The ancient Greeks divided their subjects of study into music and gymnastics. Each youth was trained in the Olympic games. The passage of time was even marked by these games, every fourth year being an Olympiad.

Physical education is necessarily an integral part of general education. The whole child goes to school, both body and mind. The American public school has until recently tried to develop the mind of the individual without thought of the body. The modern physical education program calls for games for all—for games which call into play the fundamental muscle groups involved in running, jumping, throwing and climbing; all form a large part of the program. Story plays, rhythmic-action plays, and running games for the very tiny tots; folk dancing, competitive athletics, organized games, and stimulating mass drills for the older children are the tools with which the teacher has to work.

Physical education also concerns itself with those muscle groups which hold the body in an erect position. The close relation between self-respect and posture is familiar to all of us. Physical education through games makes for the social and moral development of the child. The playground knows no race, class or social distinction.

The best man for the position is the one chosen. Recognition and acknowledgment of the rights of others must be observed in all teamwork. Co-operation and teamwork are synonymous. Where but on the play field does the child learn the elements of true sportsmanship? The successful team is the one in which all the members are working together in close cooperation.

Furthermore, the physical education program concerns itself with the health of the child. It centers the attention on positive health habits. Physical activity focuses the attention of the child on physical conditions from the constructive standpoint rather than from the morbid side. Thus health education becomes an ever-present element in physical education.

Physical education is then that phase of education which concerns itself with the growth and development of the child. It aims to promote good health and those social and moral qualities that make for good citizenship.

Other countries have taken national action to extend physical education to their children. Are you going to do less? It all depends on you.

Are the average boys and girls of today pictures of perfect health? Are they resourceful? Do they seek to be entertained? Are they provided with adequate and worthy occupations for leisure hours? Are we providing adequate opportunity for the promotion of these opportunities?

Cautious Former Prince Of Bavaria Favored for Leadership in Monarchy

(By the Associated Press)

MUNICH.—Former Crown Prince Rupprecht is the chief reason why there will not be any hurried attempt to reestablish monarchical rule in Bavaria while all of the rest of the German republic is still under democratic rule.

All the Hitler and von Kohrs who can be assembled in Munich apparently cannot induce Rupprecht to make a trial for the restoration of the Bavarian throne. He has no desire to repeat the performance of the late ex-Emperor Karl in Hungary.

Rupprecht is a loyal Wittelsbach and would like to see the monarchy reestablished in Bavaria if he thought there could be any prospect to such a restoration.

But he has learned a lot about European politics in the 54 years of his life. He had a good record in the war, and came through it pretty well convinced that the days of the Hohenzollerns were numbered.

His first wife was a sister of the present queen of Belgium. After her death he became engaged to Princess Charlotte, of Luxembourg. But that engagement was cancelled before she succeeded her deposed sister as grand duchess. Rupprecht afterward married the younger sister of Grand Duchess Charlotte, the Princess Antonia.

But his experience in his military campaigns in Belgium and Luxembourg and the international complications which speedily arose when there was a prospect that the ex-crown prince of Bavaria was likely to become the husband of the ruling monarch of little Luxembourg gave him a pretty definite idea how the entente powers feel about the restoration of deposed monarchs of the central powers to their old strongholds.

Then Rupprecht, though a soldier is actually a peace loving man. He enjoys living quietly, and is not at all fond of display and excitement. Rupprecht is the idol of the Bavarian public. Even the anti-monarchists have little to say against him.

There is no other prince who can replace him in the affections of the Bavarian people. He has two sons, one 21, and another several years younger, and several daughters. So the succession is well-provided for and he can afford to await developments with patience.

Politicians sputter and threaten all over Bavaria. Ambitious ones who would like to head the cabinet under King Rupprecht. Monarchical papers always call him

Writs of Inter-State Doctors

The following from Mr. Halterman, who was formerly a well-known railroad man and afterward broken in health, became city jailer of Coffeyville, Kansas, should be of interest:

"Coffeyville, Kan.

"I had been afflicted with a general catarrhal condition since childhood, affecting my head, stomach and bowels. During that time there were many months when I was unable to follow my work and I have been treated with many doctors. I began taking treatments of the Inter-State Doctors and after one month's treatment with them I felt better than I have for many years. I cheerfully recommend the Inter-State Doctors to anyone suffering with catarrh or stomach or bowel trouble."

"J. E. HALTERMAN."

It might be of further interest to note that Mr. Halterman was confined to the Missouri Pacific hospital at St. Louis for five months.

DOUBLE CHRISTENING IN FORD CAR FAMILY

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 25.—There's been double christening in the Ford car family.

When the newest member, a smart sedan with two doors, arrived on the scene, announcement of which is just made, there came with it the question of a name.

For several days the folks just couldn't decide what to call the baby of the new family until, from an unexpected source, there came the happy suggestion.

"Let's name it Tudor."

And Tudor it was christened, a name quite in keeping with the aristocratic appearance of the new car.

"How about re-naming the other sedan?" Some one asked and then came this reply.

"We might call it the four-door Ford or—Ah, that's it! Ford—or, Forder. Simple and expressive, isn't it?"

So we have two Ford cars with brand new names, the Tudor and the Forder.

The general staff of the war department has prepared tentative plans for the mobilization of about 4,000,000 officers and men at their home stations sometime next fall. If carried in effect, these plans will mark the first important mobilization under the national defense act.

SEEK RELIEF IN ALASKAN MENAGE

Strict Inspection of Prospective Laborers Now Decreed.

(By the Associated Press)

ANCHORAGE, Alaska.—Legislation compelling rigid examination of employees to be sent to Alaska for the salmon cannery season was recommended in a federal grand jury report made recently to Judge E. E. Ketcham at Valdez, Alaska. The report recommended that prospective employees should be examined at the port of debarkation to ascertain if any are drug addicts or afflicted with communicable diseases.

The report states that the use and sale of narcotics during the cannery season at Bristol Bay, Alaska, is rampant; that cannery workers suffering from social diseases in aggravated form were permitted to work in packing fish; that degeneracy was in evidence and quite common, that the carrying of revolvers was general, resulting in crimes and violence.

In a blanket indictment of the class of employees imported each season for cannery work, the grand jury reported that ex-convicts and narcotic addicts offer the most serious problem affecting the salmon industry. The grand jury report said in part:

"Many of these matters and conditions demand legal action and prosecution, but this grand jury did not concur until after the cannery crews had departed from the fishing fields.

"We recommend that legislation be enacted to require canneries and contractors to furnish their employees with a sufficient supply of wholesome food and sanitary living quarters during their labors; that the Alaska legislature enact such laws as will compel canneries and cannery contractors to pay their employees in money at least once a month; we further recommend legislation that will require canneries hiring men in the States and bringing them to Alaska to return such employees to the port of departure in the States, as number of men are left penniless in Alaska by these companies with no adequate provision for their support and transportation outside."

Bootleggers have been placed in the extra-hazardous class by a Philadelphia insurance company.

BERLIN DOUBTS TEARS IN JACKIE COOGAN FILMS

(By the Associated Press)

BERLIN.—The weeping policeman in Jackie Coogan's film, "My Boy," is too much for German imagination. The German film fans know that a German policeman couldn't weep and are very skeptical about the ability of an American "cop" to shed tears. They even doubt whether one of the brass-buttoned bluecoats across the Atlantic could be moved to tears by Jackie Coogan's many film trials and tribulations.

If the policemen in America are as tender-hearted as the big fellow who weeps when he is forced to arrest Jackie Coogan for law-breaking, one of the Berlin newspapers says it must be a fine place for criminals.

The objective of the Oklahoma department of the American Legion is twenty-five thousand members for 1924, and their slogan is "Over the Top in Thirty Days." Department Headquarters announces that the objective of twenty-five thousand members will no doubt be reached within a short time.

William Doyle, department commander of the American Legion in the state of Massachusetts, and a delegation of legion commanders from various points in the country, called on President Coolidge recently and, after their conference, reported that the president can be depended upon to support the Adjusted Compensation Measure which will be considered by the National Congress at their session which convenes during the month of December this year.

President Coolidge, while governor of Massachusetts, signed a state bonus bill which was one of the first compensation measures effective in the United States.

The quartermaster general of the army is now engaged in disposing of thousands of dollars worth of surplus property which was purchased during the recent World War. Auction sales of property and equipment have recently been held in Camp Dix, N. J., Brooklyn, N. Y., and, during the month just past, sales have been held in Chicago, Ill., Fort Sam Houston, Texas, and San Francisco, Calif. These sales included items of clothing and equipment, general supplies, textiles, in fact, everything from tent posts to garden hose, conduit, can to combat wagons, life rafts to electric motors. None of the materials were sold by negotiations to individuals. Ex-service men were required to bid on quantities in the same manner as the general public.

The Civil Service Commission reported to President Coolidge recently that more than sixty-three hundred veterans of the world war had been appointed to federal positions under the veterans' preference act. This preference act was passed by congress in 1910 and approximately two hundred and fifty thousand claims for appointments to classified positions have been allowed to veterans. Of this number, approximately one hundred and sixty-five thousand ex-service men have passed civil service examinations.

Warning that the time limit within which applications for the Maine state bonus must be made will expire January 1, 1924, has been made by the adjutant general of that state. Requests for blanks may be made to the adjutant general's office at Augusta.

That the American Legion should continue the "Big Brother" movement was one of the striking recommendations made by W. P. MacLean, retiring department commander of the American Legion, Kansas, and a well known boys' worker. Mr. MacLean recently appeared before the National Refiners' Home committee and outlined the policies which he believed the legion should pursue. As head of the boys' industrial school he has received assistance from many posts of the legion in Kansas in sending the boys for short trips, supplying them with band instruments and sponsoring their movements toward the development of the delinquent boys in proper channels.

In view of the constant dispute as to how former service men stand in the Veterans' Bureau when personnel must be reduced, Director Hines has repeated the following order to all district offices:

1. Ex-service men and women are to be retained if their records are good.
2. Other employees will be retained on a basis of comparative efficiency. Where records are equal, the service of the employee least necessary will be dispensed with.

BABY HAS 56 FOSTER MOTHERS COLLEGE REARS. BY SCIENCE

(By the Associated Press)

COVINGTON, Ore., Nov. 23.—Rowen Robert, aged eight months, will have 56 young women as foster mothers before the present school year ends at Oregon Agricultural College, for he is the living subject of experimentation in the "practice house." Reared by science since he came to the practice house last April, Rowen Robert now weighs something over 17 pounds. The care and feeding of this baby are in the hands of girl students under the direction of Miss A. Grace Johnson, professor of household management.

Two groups of eight girls live in the practice house every school term. They receive practical training in every branch of household activity, including that most important one—raising a child.

The oldest temperature ever recorded was 90 degrees below zero at Wenzeljansk, Siberia.

Use of Dairy Products Grows WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Forty-nine gallons of milk, 16.1 pounds of butter, and 3.8 pounds of cheese were the average consumption of dairy products of each person in the United States during last year, statistics of the Department of Agriculture show.

Use of these commodities showed an increase over all previous years. It is estimated that a little more than one-fifth of the total money paid for food last year was spent for dairy products.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

New Roadster

Business men—with whom the runabout has always been very popular—are well pleased with the changes embodied in this model. Always rugged, the car has been made decidedly trimmer and more comfortable.

This result is obtained by raising the radiator and enlarging the cow; making a decided improvement in looks and providing more leg room.

A well designed top and slanting windshield do their share toward adding a finished, clean-cut appearance.

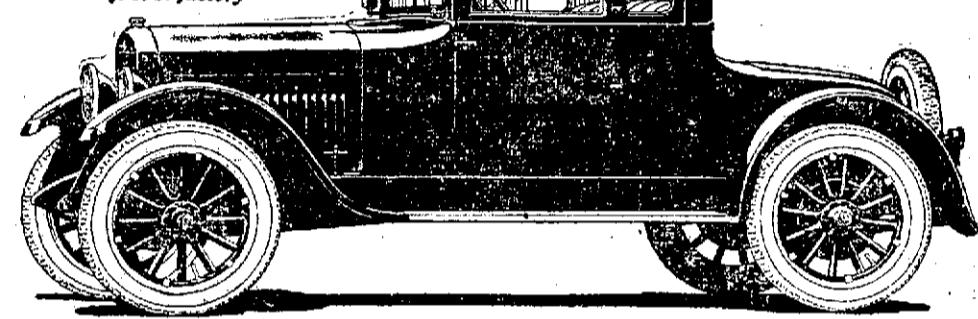

Make it a point to see the other new models also on display in the nearest Ford dealer's show room.

Due to the exceptional interest manifested in our special showing of the NEW FORD MODELS in our sales rooms this past week, we have decided to continue this show through the entire coming week.

To those of you who have not yet seen the NEW FORDS we extend a cordial invitation to visit us during the week to come. There are many new features now incorporated in the design and construction of FORD CARS that you should be familiar with, and we want to have the pleasure of explaining every detail to you.

We also want to explain fully the details of our Weekly Purchase Plan.

Changing Motor Oil

Carbon and gasoline dilution, dirt sucked through the breathe pipe and impurities already in the crank case, eventually make the best of oil unfit.

Even though you find it necessary after a hard drive to add a quart of oil, you should have a complete crankcase change every 500 miles to insure perfect lubrication.

The slight added cost is more than made up in lessened repair bills.

We have a grade of lubricating oil for every type of motor.

Ada Men Have Bumpy Time As They Lobbly Their Way To Oil Well

By W. D. LITTLE

In the beginning I want it distinctly understood that I am not attempting to write a story in keeping with the general rules of reporting. On the contrary, I am starting in on one of these magazine stories like some of the fellas write, where they are not bound down by leads, summaries, time, place or person. This story is to be a chronological review of my attempt to see the latest oil strike in Pontotoc county. For fear that you may labor under the wrong impression, however, I will state in the beginning that the oil is there. It is everywhere there, and I want to see the color of a man's pants who can go out there and come back without getting it on him.

With the fire of a cub reporter I rushed C. E. Canning into the modest roadster of more or less famous make. The day at that time had not advanced far, and in fact the sun had little more than made his appearance over the eastern horizon as T. O. Collins and William Shakespeare would say. We started out feeling fit and were kidding ourselves that we were about to blossom into real oil men, that is men living in the vicinity of a giant field. We are still of this opinion, though we have decided the oil is several hours farther from Ada than we dreamed of last night.

The Ford trotted along at pretty good pace, regardless of the fact that one of the numerous lungs was missing a breath now and then. Taking the advice of those we believed to be friends, we turned west at Latta schoolhouse.

Let me say here in passing that I have decided sooner or later every one is a liar about something, I mean every one except the fellow who is reading this. Don't think for a minute that I would infer that you, personally or collectively, would for any party amount exaggerate, or otherwise misinform the unsuspecting genus homo.

But when I considered making that trip to the oil fields, I began to inquire about the condition of the roads. One advised me to go by Roff, another by Vanoss and a half dozen by Latta and then west. Taking the law of averages, I chose the course of most advice. If you contemplate making that trip, take a tip from me. Ask what is the best road. Put down the number of people who tell you to go by Roff, the number by Vanoss, and the number by Latta. Run up the figures, and then by all means take the route advised by the fewest. It is the only safe plan I know of. In fact, I can most heartily recommend that course.

Trip Sore Duty

We rambled along until we were sore lengthwise, crosswise, longitudinally and horizontally. Then with a severe jolt we went into a hole on the long upward pull. The old Henry sprung a leak and the gasoline began to saturate terra firma to our utter amazement and consternation. Canning now resorted over the leak while I rounded a peg and inserted. This stopped the leak. We had some baling wire, the accepted tools and equipment of a motorist, one round one-millionth of an inch being large enough to stop the gas flow. With the advice and assistance of Christian—I am sure he was for us assisted cheerfully and without charge—a jack-screw and a few boulders, we reached the top of the hill, only to dive headlong into a hole so deep that it took the combined efforts of the two best drivers in that section to take that Ford roadster to firm ground again. This little speed cost two hours, eight good sized want ads. Realizing that Canning would not have time to shine his shoes before Sunday School tomorrow, I tried to keep him out of the mud, but not. If you set mud on his shoes today, complain to me, not him.

Roadster Proves Invaluable

Another one of the roadster's ups and downs gave way, and the two remaining ones waded along at a rapid pace. In order to get along faster, we changed the feeding system of the motor and he insisted on racing only by spurts. Finally we spurted into the yard overlooking the oil country and let the old boy cool out and get his tire supply back in order.

But it was worth the trip to see oil, oil, oil everywhere. It's black, as black as the sorghum molasses I used to eat when a kid, and looks quite like it. In fact, I believe if we had had that oil on the farm back in Carolina, we could have told the negro it was sorghum mixed with fat pork gravy and they would have eaten it and waxed fat and sleek.

Not being oil men, we were unable to tell just what the well would produce, but there is enough oil in storage to bring a goodly sum of money. The drillers were cleaning out from the bottom, getting the hole in shape for pumping or flowing. The drillers as they baled 70 barrels out of the well in 50 minutes without lowering the oil. At that rate you must admit it is something of an oil well, and for Pontotoc county it is a culmination of a beautiful dream we have been having. I wanted Harry Morris there to estimate the well for me, but the hour was too early for Harry, possibly. At any rate one well Harry drilled northwest of Allen is the only well in the county which I have seen so greasy.

Oil Found

I believe there is no doubt that Clark & Gilbert have uncovered a real oil pool. I am not boasting any one's leases, and do not know and don't care who has them. If any one is in doubt about the well, he ought to go out and see it.

Coming back, we took another route by Vanoss. In places this is pretty fair, and in others it is like the other road except more so. I understand the Roff route is the best. I have not been that way yet. In fact, I am certain it is the best.

These roads remind me of what the fellow said in a small town when asked the best place to eat. The townsman replied, "It does not make any difference which place you go; you'll wish you had gone to the other." Roff has built a good road from Roff to Lightning Ridge, the oil men report.

Along by Center, we thought our troubles were over. Then suddenly the front spring gave way, and we found the body settling on the axle. The baling wire with a piece of timber put the body above the tires, and we navigated the distance to Ada, burning several more fixture accounts. Charley Laseman is building a good road across the Springbrook bottoms, but just now it is so rough teeth are often extracted from the virulent shaking. This is rumor.

But we are back. The Ford is in the garage. Canning, I hope is going to Sunday school and the oil well is a real oil well. There you have the story.
